Army Engineers To Survey Flood Damage in Area

Senator Wicks Is to Conduct Men on Tour Next Tuesday

Albany, Dec. 14 (Special)—United States Army engineers will survey the Shandaken township flood area in Ulster county December 19, it was announced today by Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston.

The engineers' tour was arranged through the office of Senator Wicks.

"Ulster county officials and I will meet the Army representatives next Tuesday at 11 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston," Senator Wicks said, "and will make a tour of the section hit so disastrously by the storm of November 25. The engineers will survey the damage caused by the flood to determine how much loss was due to the dams breaking and otherwise."

Two small dams burst during the storm. One was to impound water for the Pine Hill reservoir, the other for Lake Switzerland, also in the village.

The loss to the property owners in the Shandaken township, which includes hardest hit Pine Hill, was in excess of $1,000,000, it has been estimated, while the over-all loss to Ulster county in damaged highways and bridges is said to be more than $500,000.

Ulster County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran is expected to make the survey trip with the engineers and Senator Wicks.

Pre-Yule Mail Rush Is Reported

Crossing Project Causes Wider Use of Uptown Facilities

Postmaster William R. Kraft said today that the local postal system is experiencing a heavy pre-Christmas rush of mail but it is not expected to reach peak volume until next week.

Seven extras have been employed to date to handle the flow of mail and more will be put on as they are needed, he said.

The postmaster asked all local residents to mail their Christmas packages and other mail, particularly those addressed to distant points, as early as possible to avoid a last-minute flood of mail.

The closing of central Broadway in the crossing project area, the postmaster said, has resulted in the handling of more mail at the uptown branch office, and the rush there is considerably ahead of last year.

"Tell 'em we will be open this Saturday night."

That sentence was echoed by merchants by the dozens today and yesterday—whenever they spotted a Freeman reporter within earshot.

In many cases, it is the only Saturday night of the year that the stores will be open. Notch Road Bid Is for $203,242

Poughkeepsie Concern Is About $11,000 Under State Estimate

Albany, Dec. 14—A Poughkeepsie contractor was the lowest of five bidders on the project of repairing the Stony Clove road at Phoenicia, when figures were submitted Wednesday.

It was announced by the State Department of Public Works that John Arborio, Inc., of Poughkeepsie was low bidder with a figure of $203,242.80.

The state engineer's estimate was $214,000.

No date has been announced for letting the contract.

The 1.63 stretch of roadway has been in great dispute by residents of the area whose children traverse it in school buses.

Several incidents have occurred of parents keeping their children home during bad weather which increased the travel hazard.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, Republican majority leader in the state Legislature, has been pressing for reconstruction of the road for some time.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—President Truman discussed home front mobilization with a second congressional group today and was urged by several of the legislators to go ahead with wage-price controls.

There was no word as to whether Mr. Truman had made up his mind about that, but Senator Maybank (D-SC) said he was "hopeful" the President will declare a national emergency and put into effect swiftly "whatever wage-price controls can be administratively handled."

Senator Tobey (R-NH) told reporters he had advised "all out" controls.

"This is one of the darkest hours in the history of this nation and the world," Tobey said.

Communist Plane Activity Assumes Vigorous Nature

Russian-Made Fighters Engage Americans in Northwest Korea

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—An air force spokesman said today there are indications the Communist air force is starting to wage all-out air war in Korea.

He said that increased enemy jet fighter activities during the last few days suggests "the enemy may now intend to exploit fully his air potential concommitantly with his ground successes."

"The pattern now unfolded," he added, "may reveal a steady increasing tempo of air activity as additional aircraft become available from Communist China or the Soviet Union."

Fire Exchanged

A dispatch from Korea today said 24-Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighters and four American jet Shooting Stars exchanged fire near Sinuiju in northwest Korea. None of the American planes was reported damaged. The U. S. pilots said one Communist plane was hit.

The United Nations forces in Korea might be particularly vulnerable to air attack in their present positions—concentrated in relatively small areas, especially in the northwest where they have only a small beachhead around the port of Hungnam.

The air force spokesman's suggestion that the Communists are planning all-out air war was made at the Pentagon's regular briefing for reporters.

Secretary Tells Congress Rapid Build-Up Is Required to Meet War Threat

16 Billions Sought

Emergency Fund Basis of Defense Head's Testimony

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—A rapid build-up of the nation's war plants is essential to meet the serious threat of a global conflict, Secretary of Defense Marshall has told Congress.

Whether an all-out shooting war might erupt within the next few months was described by Marshall as "very hard to answer."

He said this country is doing all it can to avoid full-scale hostilities, but, he added, "we realize that an all-out war can be initiated by a single word from the other side."

While this uncertainty exists, he said, "emphasis on production is the way to begin" to strengthen the nation's sinews. He said the important thing is "to lay down the assembly lines, the tooling, the jigs and so forth, so that we can quickly build up what may be necessary.

Views Expressed

Marshall expressed these views in secret hearings before the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee on an emergency $16,844,000,000 request for more military funds. The subcommittee made the testimony of Marshall and other military officials public today.

The huge money bill—assured of congressional approval this year—boosts to $41,481,000,000 the amount sought to fight the Korean war and to expand and maintain the military forces through next June 30.

It is the second such emergency request since the start of the Korean war. The first, approved last fall, was for $10,500,000,000. One of Marshall's top aides, Undersecretary Robert Lovett, called the new money only "an initial step in a planned four-year effort" to restore U. S. military might.

'Partial Mobilization'

The present bill provides what Marshall terms "partial mobilization," and what Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.) of the sub-committee interpreted to a reporter as meaning "one-third to one-half of full mobilization."

Marshal told the subcommittee that before next June he thought

It was announced today that Dr. Joseph Jacobson, 11 East Chestnut street, a naval commander in World War 2, and thoracic surgical consultant for the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital since 1935, will become director of the hospital on January 1.

Dr. Jacobson has been serving as acting director of the hospital since Dr. George Weller's resignation last September.

The appointment of Dr. Jacobson was made public by Harry Kaplan, who on Wednesday night was re-elected president of the Ulster County Board of Health. Dr. Francis E. O'Connor was chosen again as vice president of the health board.

Kaplan's comment concerning the appointment was "The Ulster County Board of Health is extremely fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Jacobson as hospital director, since he has a completely balanced knowledge of both the medical and surgical treatment of tuberculosis."

Rail Strike Is Spreading In Spite of Federal Order

Army Threatens Contempt Action

Rail Brotherhood May Feel Contempt Move in Walkout

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The army threatened today to seek contempt action against the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen unless the union obeys a court order to end a wildcat strike by railroad yard workers.

The warning came as the strike spread from Chicago to Washington and St. Louis, and union leaders hinted at further extension of the walkouts. The government obtained a Federal Court order against the strike at Chicago last night but there was no sign of a back to work move there.

Assistant Secretary of the Army Karl Bendetsen sent this word to reporters at a regular Pentagon news briefing:

"If the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen does not comply with the order of a Federal Court requiring it to end the unauthorized railroad strike, the federal government will move for contempt citations."

The army, which has been operating the roads since the government seized them last August to avert a nationwide strike, has called the Chicago walkout a blow to the war effort.

There was no immediate comment from the union on Bendetsen's statement.

An army spokesman indicated further court action would be taken. He told reporters he was sure additional injunctions would be sought "if there are other strikes."

Passenger Service Is Cut on Eight Lines Running Into Washington

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—A sudden, crippling strike by railroad yardworkers spread today from Chicago to Washington and St. Louis despite a federal court order to end the walkout.

Freight traffic was disrupted in St. Louis and Chicago. Passenger, mail and express service were affected in Washington.

The yardworkers' work stoppage curtailed passenger service on eight rail lines serving the nation's capital. A similar walkout has tied up considerable freight and hit some passenger traffic in Chicago, rail crossroads of the nation.

There had been a hint from chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods that the strike might spread. The first walkout, in Chicago, took 10,000 men out of the yards yesterday.

Judge Gives Order

A federal court judge last night ordered the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to end the day-old strike. The government, which seized the nation's carriers last August after a strike threat stemming from a wage-hour dispute, said the stoppage was "seriously interfering with the war effort."

The walkout, which the union termed unauthorized, virtually halted freight movement. It caused some passenger train cancellations and disrupted other industries. Continuation of the stoppage threatened a major delay in the Christmas mails in Chicago, which is a major trans-

Parcel Post Halt Being Considered

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Post Office Department today considered a partial embargo on parcel post mailings in view of the spreading strike among railroad yard employes.

Assistant Postmaster General John M. Redding told a news conference shortly before noon (EST) that the railway walkouts at strategic centers across the country "effectively cripple the mail distribution system."

He said department officials must decide within the next few hours whether to order post offices to stop accepting package mailings for transcontinental delivery and movement between the north and south.

North Street Woman Sues in Supreme Court—Drowned in '48

A jury of five men and seven women was drawn today for the trial of a $100,000 action brought by Mrs. Mary Alecca, 167 North street, against The Hutton Company, local brick manufacturers, to recover for the death of her husband, Charles Alecca, captain of a barge owned by the brick company, who was drowned in New York Feb. 27, 1948.

Cashin & Ewig with Thomas A. McDonald, of New York, appear for the plaintiff, who is suing as executrix, and Arthur A. Ames, of Poughkeepsie with Edward A. Shandell, of New York, appears for the brick company.

The action is brought before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, under the Jones Act which permits a case of this nature to be tried in Supreme Court rather than in a federal court.

The jury was selected shortly before noon and Judge Elsworth adjourned court until 2 p. m., at which time the case was scheduled to open.

All jurors not engaged on the case were excused until 10 a. m., Monday, and the court announced that additions would be made to the day calendar at that time.

Drouth Program for Tito Is Headed for Enactment

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—A $38,000,000 drouth relief program for Communist Yugoslavia — a "must" in President Truman's post-election legislative book—appeared headed for quick enactment today.

Battered but still substantially intact, it passed the House late yesterday, 225 to 142, after two days of stormy debate.

In the showdown, 182 Democrats were joined by 43 Republicans to put the measure across. Voting "no" were 100 Republicans, 41 Democrats and Rep. Marcantonio, American Labor party.

Before the bill goes to Mr. Truman for his signature, a compromise between conflicting Senate and House versions must be worked out. With no basic difficulties in prospect, this was expected to be done quickly.

Many House members were openly dubious of wooing Communist Dictator Tito, but the majority went along with the argument that the United States must bolster the anti-Soviet Belgrade regime to save it from Stalin.

The attitude of perhaps a majority was summed up by Rep. Ribicoff (D.-Conn.) who urged help for Tito as a "realistic" move in the struggle to contain Soviet imperialism.

"Nothing has come before this House in a long time which has aroused so little enthusiasm as this bill," he told the House.

Of the five major "must" items the President outlined for the "lame duck" session of the dying 81st Congress, this was the second to be passed by both branches.

Rent control extension already has gone to the White House. The Yugoslav aid bill was almost as

Convoy of Trucks Is Carrying Supplies to Chinese Forces Near Reservoir

Blackout Ordered

Security Covers General Activity in Hamhung Sector

Tokyo, Dec. 14 (AP)—Allied forces pulled deeper into their northeast Korea beachhead today before the menace of an estimated 100,000 Chinese Reds massed on an arc around them.

Across the peninsula in the northwest near Manchuria the biggest jet-against-jet air battles ever fought were waged during the day. The jet dogfights rendered no clear-cut decision.

On the northeast beachhead the U. S. Third Division abandoned the town of Oro, six miles north of Hamhung, and withdrew into the slender perimeter strip extending another six miles to the east coast port of Hungnam.

It is the United Nations' last toehold in the northeast.

Puerto Rican troops attached to the Third Division dynamited three spans of a 500-foot concrete-bridge over the Songchon river after Oro was abandoned. A railroad bridge and two other spans on the outer defense perimeter also were blasted.

Oro Is in Flames

These were the first reported large demolitions on the outskirts of the beachhead. Oro was in flames from pre-dawn fighting. This was believed to be the scene of a light Chinese probing attack reported earlier but not pinpointed. Enemy reconnaissance planes scouted the beachhead Wednesday night.

The tense beachhead was quiet Thursday. Riflemen and machine-gunners, testing their weapons in the dock area, caused one flurry of excitement.

A Red convoy of 100 trucks was reported moving south from the Manchurian border toward the Changjin reservoir, where thousands of Allied troops now at the beachhead recently smashed through Red traps.

A briefing officer said the convoy was believed to be carrying supplies for the Reds massed around Hamhung and Hungnam.

In the far northwest, another threat appeared in the growing strength of Red jet fighter planes streaking into action from Manchuria.

24 Battle Four, Lose

Twenty-four Russian-made MIG-15s tangled with four American F-80 Shooting Stars in the aerial dogfight.

The flashing battle was waged for nearly a half hour over the Sinuiju area on the Korean side of the Red Manchurian border. Pilots reported one hit on a MIG and no damage to their own planes.

Earlier in the day 14 to 16 MIGs—the largest number to appear fighting in a single formation up to then—engaged U. S. jets in a brief clash in the same area. That fight was broken off without damage to the eight American jets involved.

A security blackout settled over

Senator Wicks Is to Conduct Men on Tour Next Tuesday

Albany, Dec. 14 (Special)—United States Army engineers will survey the Shandaken township flood area in Ulster county December 19, it was announced today by Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston.

The engineers' tour was arranged through the office of Senator Wicks.

"Ulster county officials and I will meet the Army representatives next Tuesday at 11 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston," Senator Wicks said, "and will make a tour of the section hit so disastrously by the storm of November 25. The engineers will survey the damage caused by the flood to determine how much loss was due to the dams breaking and otherwise."

Two small dams burst during the storm. One was to impound water for the Pine Hill reservoir, the other for Lake Switzerland, also in the village.

The loss to the property owners in the Shandaken township, which includes hardest hit Pine Hill, was in excess of $1,000,000, it has been estimated, while the over-all loss to Ulster county in damaged highways and bridges is said to be more than $500,000.

Ulster County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran is expected to make the survey trip with the engineers and Senator Wicks.

Stores Will Be Open to 9 P.M. Dec. 15 to 22

"Tell 'em we will be open this Saturday night."

That sentence was echoed by merchants by the dozens today and yesterday—whenever they spotted a Freeman reporter within earshot.

Uptown Businessmen's Association members and most other merchants in the city whose stores will be open Saturday night want that fact emphasized. In many cases, it is the only Saturday night of the year that the stores will be open. It should be especially convenient for night-shift factory workers who still have Christmas shopping to do, the merchants say.

Of course the stores will be open until 9 this Friday, December 15, as usual. Next week, the stores will remain open evenings every day, Monday through Friday inclusive. Most stores will close at 6 p. m. Saturday, December 23, to give their clerks opportunity to start on their holidays.

$100,000 Is Asked In Alecca Death

North Street Woman Sues in Supreme Court—Drowned in '48

A jury of five men and seven women was drawn today for the trial of a $100,000 action brought by Mrs. Mary Alecca, 167 North street, against The Hutton Company, local brick manufacturers, to recover for the death of her husband, Charles Alecca, captain of a barge owned by the brick company, who was drowned in New York Feb. 27, 1948.

Cashin & Ewig with Thomas A. McDonald, of New York, appear for the plaintiff, who is suing as executrix, and Arthur A. Ames, of Poughkeepsie with Edward A. Shandell, of New York, appears for the brick company.

The action is brought before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, under the Jones Act which permits a case of this nature to be tried in Supreme Court rather than in a federal court.

The jury was selected shortly before noon and Judge Elsworth adjourned court until 2 p. m., at which time the case was scheduled to open.

All jurors not engaged on the case were excused until 10 a. m., Monday, and the court announced that additions would be made to the day calendar at that time.

Drouth Program for Tito Is Headed for Enactment

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—A $38,000,000 drouth relief program for Communist Yugoslavia — a "must" in President Truman's post-election legislative book—appeared headed for quick enactment today.

Battered but still substantially intact, it passed the House late yesterday, 225 to 142, after two days of stormy debate.

In the showdown, 182 Democrats were joined by 43 Republicans to put the measure across. Voting "no" were 100 Republicans, 41 Democrats and Rep. Marcantonio, American Labor party.

Before the bill goes to Mr. Truman for his signature, a compromise between conflicting Senate and House versions must be worked out. With no basic difficulties in prospect, this was expected to be done quickly.

Many House members were openly dubious of wooing Communist Dictator Tito, but the majority went along with the argument that the United States must bolster the anti-Soviet Belgrade regime to save it from Stalin.

The attitude of perhaps a majority was summed up by Rep. Ribicoff (D.-Conn.) who urged help for Tito as a "realistic" move in the struggle to contain Soviet imperialism.

"Nothing has come before this House in a long time which has aroused so little enthusiasm as this bill," he told the House.

Of the five major "must" items the President outlined for the "lame duck" session of the dying 81st Congress, this was the second to be passed by both branches.

Rent control extension already has gone to the White House. The Yugoslav aid bill was almost as

Red Planes Are Seen in Beach Area

Convoy of Trucks Is Carrying Supplies to Chinese Forces Near Reservoir

Blackout Ordered

Security Covers General Activity in Hamhung Sector

Tokyo, Dec. 14 (AP)—Allied forces pulled deeper into their northeast Korea beachhead today before the menace of an estimated 100,000 Chinese Reds massed on an arc around them.

Across the peninsula in the northwest near Manchuria the biggest jet-against-jet air battles ever fought were waged during the day. The jet dogfights rendered no clear-cut decision.

On the northeast beachhead the U. S. Third Division abandoned the town of Oro, six miles north of Hamhung, and withdrew into the slender perimeter strip extending another six miles to the east coast port of Hungnam.

It is the United Nations' last toehold in the northeast.

Puerto Rican troops attached to the Third Division dynamited three spans of a 500-foot concrete bridge over the Songchon river after Oro was abandoned. A railroad bridge and two other spans on the outer defense perimeter also were blasted.

Oro Is in Flames

These were the first reported large demolitions on the outskirts of the beachhead. Oro was in flames from pre-dawn fighting. This was believed to be the scene of a light Chinese probing attack reported earlier but not pinpointed. Enemy reconnaissance planes scouted the beachhead Wednesday night.

The tense beachhead was quiet Thursday. Riflemen and machine-gunners, testing their weapons in the dock area, caused one flurry of excitement.

A Red convoy of 100 trucks was reported moving south from the Manchurian border toward the Changjin reservoir, where thousands of Allied troops now at the beachhead recently smashed through Red traps.

A briefing officer said the convoy was believed to be carrying supplies for the Reds massed around Hamhung and Hungnam.

In the far northwest, another threat appeared in the growing strength of Red jet fighter planes streaking into action from Manchuria.

24 Battle Four, Lose

Twenty-four Russian-made MIG-15s tangled with four American F-80 Shooting Stars in the aerial dogfight.

The flashing battle was waged for nearly a half hour over the Sinuiju area on the Korean side of the Red Manchurian border. Pilots reported one hit on a MIG and no damage to their own planes.

Earlier in the day 14 to 16 MIGs—the largest number to appear fighting in a single formation up to then—engaged U. S. jets in a brief clash in the same area. That fight was broken off without damage to the eight American jets involved.

A security blackout settled over

Egg Prices Drop, Other Foods Climb; Beef Goes Upward

(By The Associated Press)

Egg prices took a Humpty-Dumpty spill in many cities this week, but changes in other foods were mostly upward.

Beef items, some cuts of pork, canned coffee and several fresh vegetables were higher.

The drop in retail egg prices was very irregular across the country. In some cities, like New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the reduction ranged as much as 16 cents a dozen. But in others the declines were much smaller, and in some, top grade eggs at mid-week were still being quoted a few cents above last Friday's levels.

At Los Angeles, a spokesman for a large store chain said "eggs are still in very tight supply here, but prices may go down 5 to 8 cents a dozen by the end of the week."

Several Factors Involved

Several factors confused the egg price and supply situation. Sharp price gains last week were blamed on storms which delayed shipments of eggs to terminal markets, heavy military buying in the midwest, depletion of cold storage stocks, and most of all, brisk consumer demand.

But egg prices are very sensitive to consumer price-resistance, and when shoppers began to trim their purchases early this week supplies started backing up on wholesalers and the market turned weak. Supplies from country collecting points picked up as weather troubles eased.

Canada Takes Advantage

Fresh eggs by the carload began arriving in some eastern cities from Canadian shippers anxious to take advantage of the high prices. There was talk of eggs on the way even from Holland and Argentina.

And on Tuesday in New York, for example, wholesale egg prices made their sharpest drop in the history of the mercantile exchange—15 cents a dozen. This was more than most traders had expected, and many said prices were likely to recover a few cents by the week-end because overall supplies still were short.

However, Agriculture Department officials said lower egg prices were expected in January, when production will begin its seasonal upswing.

Beef Items Advance

Several beef items advanced two to six cents a pound in many stores this week, while pork was generally unchanged to four cents a pound higher, and lamb, veal and poultry held about steady.

Several leading roasters of nationally-advertised brands of vacuum-packed coffee marked up wholesale prices two cents a pound, to reflect higher replacement costs of green coffee.

Unfavorably cold weather which reduced receipts of fresh vegetables from several states was blamed for most of the price boosts this week in the produce departments. Higher in most stores were snap beans, good quality broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, eggplant, peas, peppers and squash.

Lettuce, Carrots Lower

Slightly lower were lettuce, carrots, celery and most citrus fruits.

The Agriculture Department forecast a 10 per cent increase in output of citrus fruits for the 1950-51 season, with the crop estimated at around 172,310,000 boxes compared with 156,665,000 last season and the 1939-48 average of 163,477,000.

Florida's citrus shipping industry was expected to shut down operations from Christmas Eve through New Year's Day so northern markets can clear up heavy Christmas supplies before new shipments can depress prices.

Kim Says Russia Out To Conquer World

Seoul, Dec. 14 (AP)—Kim Dong Sung, former cabinet official and observer at the United Nations, said today the U.N. cease-fire proposal to the Chinese Communists is not welcome to the Korean people.

Kim, now a member of the Korean National Assembly, said:

"The Korean people do not want to have another 38th parallel that might be crossed by the Russian puppets at any time.

"Members of the National Assembly who represent public opinion believe that ceasing fire at the 38th parallel does not guarantee our national security nor world peace."

Kim declared Soviet puppets would never stop aggression until they conquer the whole world.

"We must fight and fight until communism is completely defeated," Kim added.

Assemblyman Lyuh Woon Hong said "ceasing fire is more dangerous than continuing fire because the Chinese Communists will prepare for an all-out attack, taking advantage of the cease-fire period. We are most afraid the Chinese Communist forces may sweep the whole of Korea if * * * U.N. forces withdraw from Korea."

Kim said that despite their need for outside military assistance the Korean people do not approve rearming the Japanese to such an extent that Japan might become again a dominating power in the Far East.

American Losses Rise to 33,878

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Announced American casualties in the Korean war rose to 33,878 today, an increase of 1,436 in a week.

Today's weekly summary, issued by the Defense Department, reported 5,870 deaths, of which 5,258 were killed in action, 607 died of wounds, and five are now known to be dead after previously being reported missing in action.

It listed the wounded at 23,477 (including the 607 who later died). Missing in action: 5,143.

The new totals are based on notifications to next-of-kin through Dec. 8, but probably reflect few of the losses suffered when United Nations forces were hit by the huge Chinese Communist offensive.

This is because of the time lag resulting from the notification procedure. The first effects of the enemy offensive probably will begin to show in casualty reports a week or two from now.

Kim Says Russia Out To Conquer World

Seoul, Dec. 14 (AP)—Kim Dong Sung, former cabinet official and observer at the United Nations, said today the U.N. cease-fire proposal to the Chinese Communists is not welcome to the Korean people.

Kim, now a member of the Korean National Assembly, said:

"The Korean people do not want to have another 38th parallel that might be crossed by the Russian puppets at any time.

"Members of the National Assembly who represent public opinion believe that ceasing fire at the 38th parallel does not guarantee our national security nor world peace."

Kim declared Soviet puppets would never stop aggression until they conquer the whole world.

"We must fight and fight until communism is completely defeated," Kim added.

Assemblyman Lyuh Woon Hong said "ceasing fire is more dangerous than continuing fire because the Chinese Communists will prepare for an all-out attack, taking advantage of the cease-fire period. We are most afraid the Chinese Communist forces may sweep the whole of Korea if * * * U.N. forces withdraw from Korea."

Kim said that despite their need for outside military assistance the Korean people do not approve rearming the Japanese to such an extent that Japan might become again a dominating power in the Far East.

RETRIEVING LAND

The government is still at the task of trying to recover land which was removed from agricultural use after the disastrous dust storm years. In Kansas the experiment of sowing grass seed by air is now being tried on a large scale. It has been done on small patches, and found to be fairly satisfactory, although it is less efficient than seeding with drills and is limited to grasses with relatively heavy seeds. But the air seeding is faster and cheaper than ground seeding, and those are important factors in the light of the amount of ground to be covered.

Great tracts of land have been acquired by the government to take them out of use and reduce the losses of the owners. Much other land, still in private ownership, is equally barren and useless. Once native grasses grew lushly on most of the dust bowl land. But the grass then had little competition. When the land was plowed up and sowed to wheat and other crops, the soil often proved too poor to sustain the crops. When the grassland was grazed, even the native grass quickly disappeared unless the amount of grazing was carefully limited. The result was the impoverished, loose soil which was picked up by the winds in the thirties and swept over the plains like a plague. These things did not always happen; where the soil was good some of the nation's best wheat land has been developed in this same area.

It might be thought that after the lesson of the dust storms the mistake would never be repeated. Yet in World War II, when wheat again became precious, much land fit only for grass again was put to the plow in the dust bowl area. Some of this land threatened new dust storms last spring. A patch of land may be ruined in a year or two; it may take a generation to retrieve it.

SALARY KICKBACKS

Some aspects of human nature show up poorly in the light of a request of the Department of Justice to Congress. The department asks to have loopholes plugged in the law against salary "kickbacks" by government employes. This practice, not absolutely unknown in private business, enables supervisors in charge of employment to squeeze money out of their subordinates as a condition of getting or retaining their jobs.

A charge of using this method of making money sent Congressman J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey to jail last year. A suit involving another congressman accused of this practice is now pending. The law has teeth when the charge involves the receipt of money to get a person on the federal pay roll. The Justice Department would like to have the prohibition extended to extortion practiced to keep a person in a job.

Congress should find time to give adequate consideration to this recommendation. Otherwise the suspicion might grow that some of its members profit by this contemptible way of doing.

WHITE-COLLAR MACHINES

The next group to feel the impact of technological unemployment may be that large and motley assortment known as the white-collar workers. Such is the prophecy of Dr. Robert F. Jackson, associate professor of mathematics at the University of Delaware. He thinks that within a decade electronic calculators can be brought to the point of mass production, and that they can take over the tasks of millions of payroll clerks, hand computers, shipping clerks, job-routing clerks and similar workers.

The [illegible] machines able to do almost any clerical job not requiring imagination or originality. This sound like disaster to the white-collar group. But with all that imagination and originality set free from humdrum tasks, the result might be more of the good life for this group and the rest, too.

[illegible] Congress has approved a stop-gap [illegible] federal rent controls. It provided [illegible] extension of the rent control law [illegible] would have expired January 1, 1951, and left the next Congress, along with various other matters, the problem of studying the situation and the law and deciding whether they match up. The existing law, thus given a new period of life, is simply the result of other similar extensions of the World War II measure, each extension intended as a stop-gap provision for a limited time.

A news note says the Empire State Building has a television antenna built to survive winds of 150 miles an hour. It's all set for the 1952 political campaign.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE PEOPLE OF FORMOSA

In the huge statement issued by President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee, there are few grains of evidence concerning their agreements and disagreements. Those who drafted the document skillfully avoided publicized commitments of a nature that might flare back at Truman and Attlee from their own electorates. Both exist politically by such narrow margins that the grand daring of statesmanship is not in them.

However, they have thrown a new phrase into the discussion, "The People of Formosa." That phrase has important political meaning at this moment as what it portends is a separation of Chiang Kai-shek from China. As the statement is worded, it separates Formosa from China—that is, Nationalist China is one entity and Communist China another entity—and the United States and Great Britain can deal with both. The United States says that it will not deal with Soviet China; Great Britain says that it will.

Here is the paragraph to which I refer:

"We agreed that the issues should be settled by peaceful means and in such a way as to safeguard the interests of the people of Formosa and the maintenance of peace and security in the Pacific, and that consideration of this question by the United Nations will contribute to these ends."

Maybe that is a practical way of handling a simple situation which the deceit and ignorance of statesmen made complex to the point of bringing on an unnecessary war which probably cost 10,000 American lives. Maybe for them there is no other out, because otherwise they would have to denounce and incriminate themselves.

Yet, we need to think of the degradation of our moral position. On November 26, 1943, the Far Eastern settlement had been reached in terms concerning which only Japan had cause for complaint. This was in the Cairo declaration signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Chiang Kai-shek. It read:

". . . It is their purpose that Japan shall be stripped of all the islands in the Pacific which she has seized or occupied since the beginning of the First World War in 1914, and that all the territories Japan has stolen from the Chinese, such as Manchuria, Formosa, and the Pescadores, shall be restored to the Republic of China. Japan will also be expelled from all other territories which she has taken by violence and greed. The aforesaid three great powers, mindful of the enslavement of the people of Korea, are determined that in due course Korea shall become free and independent."

From this declaration, Roosevelt and Churchill receded five days later at Teheran, where they met with Stalin. However, they did not inform Chiang Kai-shek that the agreement he had signed in Cairo had already been invalidated. In a word, Roosevelt and Churchill on December 1, 1943, when they made the Cairo declaration public, issued a document which they themselves had already made a dead letter.

All our present troubles come from that one big lie. The oft-given excuse is that it was the only way to get Russia into the Far Eastern war. But that, too, is a lie. For Russia did not enter the Far Eastern war until August 8, 1945, nearly two years later. Chiang was not told of the lie until the summer of 1945 when General Pat Hurley exposed the deception to him.

The Korean war is a direct product of the American and British consent to the conquest of Manchuria by Soviet Russia in violation of the pledged signature of Roosevelt and Churchill.

Neither a nation nor a man can recede from a moral position with peril. The disadvantage of Dean Acheson, as secretary of state, is not that he lacks ability; it is that he has had to fight this lie, the devil of Teheran, the deceit and folly of Teheran. He has been required to cover up, to deceive his own people, to issue the dishonest White Paper of China, to play along with the anti-American policy of Great Britain—all to cover up the lie of Teheran.

But it will not stay covered. It stands out now as the tombstone over the graves of our sons in Korea.

The phrase "The People of Formosa" is but another rationalization in this long retreat from truth. It is our moral Dunkirk.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

A DRUG FOR BOTH TYPES OF PNEUMONIA

Almost every week physicians receive literature on new antihistaminics and new antibiotics.

Now that allergies are so well known (one or more members of almost every family showing evidences of hay fever, asthma, head colds, hives, etc.), drugs to counteract these conditions are becoming common. As an extract manufactured by the body itself, histamine, is the underlying cause of these allergic symptoms, these drugs are called antihistaminics.

Antibiotics are a drug that fight against or kill harmful organisms in the body, the best known of which are the sulfa drugs and penicillin.

A new antibiotic that has been very effective in chest ailments, particularly pneumonia, is terrymycin, a new earth-mold drug. A report on this drug appeared recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Drs. George W. Melcher, Jr., Count D. Gibson, Jr., Harry M. Rose and Yale Kneeland. There were 25 patients of which 18 were lobar pneumonia—the usual of bacterial organisms—and 7 were virus pneumonia—tiny or invisible organs. Physicians have found that an antibiotic that will kill the ordinary pneumonia organism (pneumococcus) may not be able to kill the virus variety.

Of the entire 25 patients, all severe cases, every one was cured, showing that terrymycin is remarkably effective in the treatment of both types of infection. There were no complications and all patients made a rapid and complete recovery.

Two of the 25 cases are worth mentioning. The first was a 39-year-old postal worker with virus pneumonia. Before entering hospital he was treated with penicillin without effect. On sixth day of illness, temperature at its highest point, he entered hospital. Within 36 hours, his temperature was down to normal and seven days later he left hospital cured. The second case, a young man with lobar pneumonia, treated with sulfadiazine, the usual sulfa drug used in lobar pneumonia, became dangerously ill—chills and cough. An hour after admission to hospital he was given terrymycin and in 12 hours he was greatly improved, and in 4 days completely cured.

A drug that can cure both types of pneumonia will be greatly welcomed by physicians.

Eruption

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — All presidents, being human, sometimes lose their temper. And Harry Truman, being intensely devoted to his family, has an understandable tendency to shoot from the hip when it comes to his wife and daughter.

However, those on the inside of the White House know that presidential fuse-blowing is not confined to protecting his family. More and more the President's temper has influenced public policy. Quick decisions, swayed by personal peeve, can affect the lives of millions, and the public has a right to know about them.

Take, for instance, price controls. Failure to impose price controls has shot up the cost of living by billions of dollars, has increased the cost of rearmament to Uncle Sam, and started an inflation spiral which may do inestimable damage.

Yet Congress long ago voted presidential power to impose price controls. In fact, Republicans led in giving the President more power than he requested. However, this power has not been used.

Anti-Baruch

One reason is that Bernard Baruch came down to Washington and helped persuade the Republicans to vote these powers; and the President hates Bernard Baruch. He hates him with a passion that distorts and discolors his judgment. When Baruch's name comes up in conversations, dispassionate reason leaves the President.

The hatred began when Baruch declined an invitation to serve on a committee of Democrats to raise money during the 1948 campaign. The President then wrote him a letter not unlike the one sent to music critic Paul Hume; later, he fired Baruch's brother as ambassador to Holland and timed it to occur on Baruch's birthday. Bernie, once a frequent caller at the White House, has never been near there since.

Later, the President blamed Baruch for getting revenge on him by blocking confirmation of Truman's close friend, Mon Wallgren, as chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Baruch denies this. But his influence with southern senators is considerable, and White House advisers gave him credit for the fact that Wallgren was never confirmed.

Anti-Taft

Another illustration of what presidential peeve can do to national policy is Senator Bob Taft.

For a long time the President has been wanting to get the bipartisan foreign policy back on an even keel. But the cornerstone of such a policy is Senator Taft—most influential Republican on Capitol Hill.

For his part, Taft has made no secret of the fact that he would like to be summoned to the White House. When other Republicans, Senators Wherry and Wiley, return from presidential conferences, Taft has queried them like a cub reporter afraid of getting scooped. And when he heard that the White House might call him in last week, Taft was like a schoolgirl about to go to her first prom. He even offered to cancel a trip to Yale, where he is a member of the board of trustees.

But the President who has a personal prejudice against Taft, would not invite him.

Pearson Prediction

Another illustration of presidential peeve which upset his own applecart was the proposed Loyalty Review Board, composed of Judge John Parker of North Carolina, Judge John Patrick Higgins of Massachusetts, and Adm. Chester Nimitz. White House advisers had sold the President on appointing this board to supersede the Tydings committee for the purpose of thoroughly examining the question of communism in the State Department.

A non-partisan board of judges, it was argued, would lift the question of State Department loyalty out of partisan politics and give a categoric answer to Senator McCarthy. The President, at first, was all for it.

Then this commentator predicted that the board would be appointed. Immediately the President got peeved. He was not, he made it clear to advisers, going to help make a "Pearson prediction come true."

The bipartisan Loyalty Board was scrapped, McCarthy's charges became the chief issue of the campaign, and Senator Tydings, Senator Lucas, Helen Gahagan Douglas, Senator Thomas of Utah, plus others of the President's staunchest supporters were defeated.

Had the Loyalty Board been appointed, it is more than possible that the recent election would have turned out differently.

Palace Guard

Every member of the White House secretariat knows what the President's peeves and pet aversions are. But up until recently they did little to put a quietus on them. In fact, the man who tried hardest to buck the President on certain idiosyncrasies, Clark Clifford, was the object of an intense and jealous campaign by John Steelman to euchre him out.

The White House staff know, of course, that anything even remotely critical of his wife or daughter makes the President blazing mad. The other sure-fire way to get Truman sore is to let drop the idea that someone is trying to build himself up to run for president.

This was one of the things that contributed to Louis Johnson's ouster — though there were others. For a time, Johnson had the run of the White House. He could come and go as he pleased.

Then some of the palace guard dropped word that Louey was planning to run for president in 1952, and immediately the President clammed up. Eventually it was decided to get Johnson out as secretary of defense before the Inchon landing. For, if the resignation request was made afterward, Johnson's stock would be too high. So Louey was fired one day before the Inchon landing.

When the President has time to consider a problem thoroughly and when he doesn't let personalities influence his judgment, his decisions are courageous and usually sound. Invariably he battles for the little fellow. But if, for instance, Matt Connelly, who knows all of Harry Truman's prejudices and work methods, wants to put across a deal for Pan American Airways and American Overseas Airlines, he can usually do it—by dropping a few hints and by arranging a White House conference with one key man absent.

That's why the advisers around the President are so important. That's also why they need to be men with no personal axes to grind, men swayed not by lobbyists' guiles or society dinners, but men devoted only to one cause—to see that Harry Truman does a good job for his country.

Today in Washington

U.N. Members Are Tangled in Own Political Matters to Detriment of Justice

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 14—When the United Nations was formed, the idea that it represented a means of proclaiming law and justice in international relations was foremost—yet today the members of the U.N. have gotten themselves so tangled up in their own political expendiencies that they have made a shambles of both law and justice.

Thus, the Communist government of China committed outrages against international law, but the government of Great Britain and other governments nevertheless extended formal recognition to that government.

The United States government, on the other hand, still recognizes the Nationalist government, which has a base on Formosa, and does so because no other government has arisen in China which is capable of discharging international obligations or honoring its pledges.

The United Nations members, although aware that China has a permanent seat in the Security Council with the enduring power of veto that goes with a permanent seat, did not consult with each other before extending recognition and decide the question collectively. Instead, each government went its separate way—though obviously the capacity of a new government to discharge its obligations is a matter of real substance. It cannot be dismissed as a technical affair of no interest to the family of nations.

The hypocrisy of the age is such today that, in order to justify their error in accepting a bad government by giving it recognition, refuge is taken by such nations in the argument that it doesn't matter who rules a country so long as it has physical control. The United States government for 17 years prior to 1933 declined to accept as decisive the fact that the Soviet Communists had physical control of Russia but demanded as a condition of recognition certain written assurances and pledges—which, incidentally, have since been violated repeatedly.

Today the only recognized government in Korea is that of the Republic of Korea. The United Nations sent a commission there to help it get established. The U.N. placed its blessing on the government of that country, and it was Communist Russia which prevented the faction in northern Korea from allowing the U. N. Commission to conduct elections or even to visit and inspect North Korea.

Now the Chinese Communist regime, giving military assistance to North Koreans, has attacked U.N. troops. This act of aggression has been committed not just against the Republic of Korea but against the U.N. itself. Yet, when the Republic of Korea asks for military help and the Nationalist government of China is ready to furnish such help, the constituted government of Korea is prevented from accepting it.

In international law a constituted government may call on outside governments for aid, and it is considered lawful. The aid given to the Rhee government by the U.N. is in accord with international law, and it would be the same if the Republic of Korea were to be given aid by the Nationalist armies now on Formosa.

The situation is growing more and more damaging to the U.N. every day that its troops are threatened by Chinese Communist forces. The so-called "cease fire" order is a logical thing to strive for, but it doesn't alter the position of the U.N., which cannot from any legal or moral standpoint accept the Chinese Communists on a basis of equality. The only basis on which Communist China can be treated is on the basis of its wrongdoing—its aggression.

Actually Hitler would have been glad many a time during the last war to make a negotiated peace but on terms that would have preserved the Nazi regime. The Allied forces fought until the Nazi regime was defeated and then they proceeded to punish the aggressors.

Today there are governments in the U.N. which apparently are willing to negotiate with an aggressor state. This is the first time since the period before 1939 that an aggressor has been given such treatment—virtually as an equal among the countries which have been resisting his aggression.

What is most disconcerting is the number of persons here and abroad who wave aside all considerations of law and justice and say that anything is preferable to war. This is the road to deterioration. It is only a question of time then when the aggressor moves again and the peace-at-any-price countries are caught in a war just the same.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 13 — James Kevin McGuinness died of a heart attack a few days ago. In the colloquial sense of the term he was broken-hearted, but I would never go so far as to say that the Communists of Hollywood killed him dead, although they did kill him off professionally. He was too game to curl up and die of his sorrow. He kept on fighting until his heart stopped, which is the fate of many pressure workers around Jim's age.

I had known Jim since just after the first World war when he caught onto a desk job at the old Morning Telegraph and by chance we ultimately found ourselves together in the fight on the Communist treachery in Hollywood and Washington. When he went to Washington in 1947 to testify to the penetration of the moving picture industry by the traitors, he knew he was risking all that he had worked so hard to establish in the long years since he landed in Hollywood, a big, brash, brilliant, determined man with a fine soul and a capacity for hating traitors. He never could compromise with the horrible treachery that he found among people who had every possible material reason to kiss the very ground they walked on. He had seen other Hollywood writers, actors and directors whispered out of the business as the penalty of patriotism and we discussed the danger during those nights in Washington when Danny Kaye, Humphrey Bogart and his wife, Lauren Bacall, and many others of the same political type were flouncing around the town, showing off and having a wonderful time mocking the efforts of the Committee on Un-American Activities to expose treason. No, they were not Communists. They were "Liberals" and "Progressives." But they weren't Red-baiters either—like Jim. They all went on to greater success and wealth and Jim went back to Hollywood to undergo the continuing silent pogrom which earlier had killed off Pat McNutt, another infantry veteran of the first World War who also had died broken-hearted.

McGuinness got the works in the Communist papers and in all the still more evil sheets which do not put up their hammer and sickle but hew to the party line and call that liberalism. Pretty soon the movie trade began to hear that poor Jim McGuinness was over the hill. It was a pity. Jim had been around too long. He was written out. He had slipped badly. Oh, well—the law of survival. And besides, this new fellow, this Dore Schary, was a ball of fire. He was a genius. He was, in the Hollywood word, terrific.

Last week, Jim said he had tried to get a hearing from the silent court. After all, an American should be allowed to know what the charges were against him. He did manage to get negotiations started through emissaries, which was an achievement, and that, because most victims never know what happened to them. But at a certain point, the elusive enemy vanished and Jim was done for.

Last October, when the American Legion held it national convention in Hollywood, Jim was called on for a script of a great patriotic, historical pageant in the Hollywood Bowl. This was to have been a memorial to all our dead in all our wars. Jim was a good historian and he loves his country and he turned out a book in quick time which a number of competent judges have described as a work of great beauty.

James Bradley, a lawyer in the Legion, was told that the one man who could recite the narrative better than any other in all Hollywood was Edward G. Robinson.

"I replied that Robinson was not going to use the American Legion to clear his skirts," Mr. Bradley said.

This was to have been a great project of the Association of Moving Picture Producers. It would have cost from $40,000 to $50,000, but it would have been worth incalculable money to the industry as a gesture of loyalty. The American Legion was willing to let the industry clear its skirts under Legion auspices because the result would have justified the

The government is still at the task of trying to recover land which was removed from agricultural use after the disastrous dust storm years. In Kansas the experiment of sowing grass seed by air is now being tried on a large scale. It has been done on small patches, and found to be fairly satisfactory, although it is less efficient than seeding with drills and is limited to grasses with relatively heavy seeds. But the air seeding is faster and cheaper than ground seeding, and those are important factors in the light of the amount of ground to be covered.

Great tracts of land have been acquired by the government to take them out of use and reduce the losses of the owners. Much other land, still in private ownership, is equally barren and useless. Once native grasses grew lushly on most of the dust bowl land. But the grass then had little competition. When the land was plowed up and sowed to wheat and other crops, the soil often proved too poor to sustain the crops. When the grassland was grazed, even the native grass quickly disappeared unless the amount of grazing was carefully limited. The result was the impoverished, loose soil which was picked up by the winds in the thirties and swept over the plains like a plague. These things did not always happen; where the soil was good some of the nation's best wheat land has been developed in this same area.

It might be thought that after the lesson of the dust storms the mistake would never be repeated. Yet in World War II, when wheat again became precious, much land fit only for grass again was put to the plow in the dust bowl area. Some of this land threatened new dust storms last spring. A patch of land may be ruined in a year or two; it may take a generation to retrieve it.

SALARY KICKBACKS

Some aspects of human nature show up poorly in the light of a request of the Department of Justice to Congress. The department asks to have loopholes plugged in the law against salary "kickbacks" by government employes. This practice, not absolutely unknown in private business, enables supervisors in charge of employment to squeeze money out of their subordinates as a condition of getting or retaining their jobs.

A charge of using this method of making money sent Congressman J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey to jail last year. A suit involving another congressman accused of this practice is now pending. The law has teeth when the charge involves the receipt of money to get a person on the federal pay roll. The Justice Department would like to have the prohibition extended to extortion practiced to keep a person in a job.

Congress should find time to give adequate consideration to this recommendation. Otherwise the suspicion might grow that some of its members profit by this contemptible way of doing.

WHITE-COLLAR MACHINES

The next group to feel the impact of technological unemployment may be that large and motley assortment known as the white-collar workers. Such is the prophecy of Dr. Robert F. Jackson, associate professor of mathematics at the University of Delaware. He thinks that within a decade electronic calculators can be brought to the point of mass production, and that they can take over the tasks of millions of payroll clerks, hand computers, shipping clerks, job-routing clerks and similar workers.

He foresees machines able to do almost any clerical job not requiring imagination or originality. This sound like disaster to the white-collar group. But with all that imagination and originality set free from humdrum tasks, the result might be more of the good life for that group and the rest, too.

Again Congress has approved a stop-gap measure on federal rent controls. It provided only a brief extension of the rent control law which would have expired January 1, 1951, and left the next Congress, along with various other matters, the problem of studying the situation and the law and deciding whether they match up. The existing law, thus given a new period of life, is simply the result of other similar extensions of the World War II measure, each extension intended as a stop-gap provision for a limited time.

A news note says the Empire State Building has a television antenna built to survive winds of 150 miles an hour. It's all set for the 1952 political campaign.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE PEOPLE OF FORMOSA

In the huge statement issued by President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee, there are few grains of evidence concerning their agreements and disagreements. Those who drafted the document skillfully avoided publicized commitments of a nature that might flare back at Truman and Attlee from their own electorates. Both exist politically by such narrow margins that the grand daring of statesmanship is not in them.

However, they have thrown a new phrase into the discussion, "The People of Formosa." That phrase has important political meaning at this moment as what it portends is a separation of Chiang Kai-shek from China. As the statement is worded, it separates Formosa from China—that is, Nationalist China is one entity and Communist China another entity—and the United States and Great Britain can deal with both. The United States says that it will not deal with Soviet China; Great Britain says that it will.

Here is the paragraph to which I refer:

"We agreed that the issues should be settled by peaceful means and in such a way as to safeguard the interests of the people of Formosa and the maintenance of peace and security in the Pacific, and that consideration of this question by the United Nations will contribute to these ends."

Maybe that is a practical way of handling a simple situation which the deceit and ignorance of statesmen made complex to the point of bringing on an unnecessary war which probably cost 10,000 American lives. Maybe for them there is no other out, because otherwise they would have to denounce and incriminate themselves.

Yet, we need to think of the degradation of our moral position. On November 26, 1943, the Far Eastern settlement had been reached in terms concerning which only Japan had cause for complaint. This was in the Cairo declaration signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Chiang Kai-shek. It read:

". . . It is their purpose that Japan shall be stripped of all the islands in the Pacific which she has seized or occupied since the beginning of the First World War in 1914, and that all the territories Japan has stolen from the Chinese, such as Manchuria, Formosa, and the Pescadores, shall be restored to the Republic of China. Japan will also be expelled from all other territories which she has taken by violence and greed. The aforesaid three great powers, mindful of the enslavement of the people of Korea, are determined that in due course Korea shall become free and independent."

From this declaration, Roosevelt and Churchill receded five days later at Teheran, where they met with Stalin. However, they did not inform Chiang Kai-shek that the agreement he had signed in Cairo had already been invalidated. In a word, Roosevelt and Churchill on December 1, 1943, when they made the Cairo declaration public, issued a document which they themselves had already made a dead letter.

All our present troubles come from that one big lie. The oft-given excuse is that it was the only way to get Russia into the Far Eastern war. But that, too, is a lie. For Russia did not enter the Far Eastern war until August 8, 1945, nearly two years later. Chiang was not told of the lie until the summer of 1945 when General Pat Hurley exposed the deception to him.

The Korean war is a direct product of the American and British consent to the conquest of Manchuria by Soviet Russia in violation of the pledged signature of Roosevelt and Churchill.

Neither a nation nor a man can recede from a moral position with peril. The disadvantage of Dean Acheson, as secretary of state, is not that he lacks ability; it is that he has had to fight this lie, the devil of Teheran, the deceit and folly of Teheran. He has been required to cover up, to deceive his own people, to issue the dishonest White Paper of China, to play along with the anti-American policy of Great Britain—all to cover up the lie of Teheran.

But it will not stay covered. It stands out now as the tombstone over the graves of our sons in Korea.

The phrase "The People of Formosa" is but another rationalization in this long retreat from truth. It is our moral Dunkirk.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

A DRUG FOR BOTH TYPES OF PNEUMONIA

Almost every week physicians receive literature on new antihistaminics and new antibiotics.

Now that allergies are so well known (one or more members of almost every family showing evidences of hay fever, asthma, head colds, hives, etc.), drugs to counteract these conditions are becoming common. As an extract manufactured by the body itself, histamine, is the underlying cause of these allergic symptoms, these drugs are called antihistaminics.

Antibiotics are a drug that fight against or kill harmful organisms in the body, the best known of which are the sulfa drugs and penicillin.

A new antibiotic that has been very effective in chest ailments, particularly pneumonia, is terrymycin, a new earth-mold drug. A report on this drug appeared recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Drs. George W. Melcher, Jr., Count D. Gibson, Jr., Harry M. Rose and Yale Kneeland. There were 25 patients of which 18 were lobar pneumonia—the usual or bacterial organisms—and 7 were virus pneumonia—tiny or invisible organs. Physicians have found that an antibiotic that will kill the ordinary pneumonia organism (pneumococcus) may not be able to kill the virus variety.

Of the entire 25 patients, all severe cases, every one was cured, showing that terrymycin is remarkably effective in the treatment of both types of infection. There were no complications and all patients made a rapid and complete recovery.

Two of the 25 cases are worth mentioning. The first was a 39-year-old postal worker with virus pneumonia. Before entering hospital he was treated with penicillin without effect. On sixth day of illness, temperature at its highest point, he entered hospital. Within 36 hours, his temperature was down to normal and seven days later he left hospital cured. The second case, a young man with lobar pneumonia, treated with sulfadiazine, the usual sulfa drug used in lobar pneumonia, became dangerously ill—chills and cough. An hour after admission to hospital he was given terrymycin and in 12 hours he was greatly improved, and in 4 days completely cured.

A drug that can cure both types of pneumonia will be greatly welcomed by physicians.

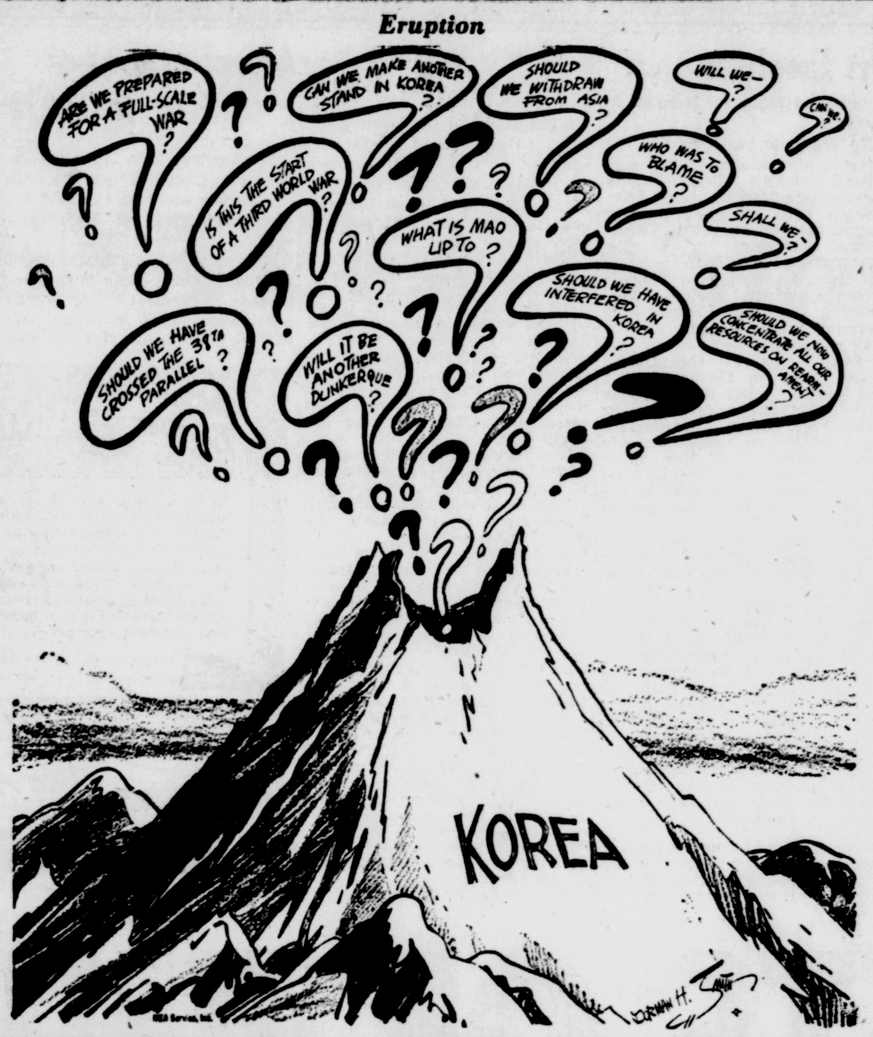
Eruption



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — All presidents, being human, sometimes lose their temper. And Harry Truman, being intensely devoted to his family, has an understandable tendency to shoot from the hip when it comes to his wife and daughter.

However, those on the inside of the White House know that presidential fuse-blowing is not confined to protecting his family. More and more the President's temper has influenced public policy. Quick decisions, swayed by personal peeve, can affect the lives of millions, and the public has a right to know about them.

Take, for instance, price controls. Failure to impose price controls has shot up the cost of living by billions of dollars, has increased the cost of rearmament to Uncle Sam, and started an inflation spiral which may do inestimable damage.

Yet Congress long ago voted presidential power to impose price controls. In fact, Republicans led in giving the President more power than he requested. However, this power has not been used.

Anti-Baruch

One reason is that Bernard Baruch came down to Washington and helped persuade the Republicans to vote these powers; and the President hates Bernard Baruch. He hates him with a passion that distorts and discolors his judgment. When Baruch's name comes up in conversations, dispassionate reason leaves the President.

The hatred began when Baruch declined an invitation to serve on a committee of Democrats to raise money during the 1948 campaign. The President then wrote him a letter not unlike the one sent to music critic Paul Hume; later, he fired Baruch's brother as ambassador to Holland and timed it to occur on Baruch's birthday. Bernie, once a frequent caller at the White House, has never been near there since.

Later, the President blamed Baruch for getting revenge on him by blocking confirmation of Truman's close friend, Mon Wallgren, as chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Baruch denies this. But his influence with southern senators is considerable, and White House advisers gave him credit for the fact that Wallgren was never confirmed.

Anti-Taft

Another illustration of what presidential peeve can do to national policy is Senator Bob Taft.

For a long time the President has been wanting to get the bipartisan foreign policy back on an even keel. But the cornerstone of such a policy is Senator Taft—most influential Republican on Capitol Hill.

For his part, Taft has made no secret of the fact that he would like to be summoned to the White House. When other Republicans, Senators Wherry and Wiley, return from presidential conferences, Taft has queried them like a cub reporter afraid of getting scooped. And when he heard that the White House might call him in last week, Taft was like a schoolgirl about to go to her first prom. He even offered to cancel a trip to Yale, where he is a member of the board of trustees.

But the President who has a personal prejudice against Taft, would not invite him.

Pearson Prediction

Another illustration of presidential peeve which upset his own applecart was the proposed Loyalty Review Board, composed of Judge John Parker of North Carolina, Judge John Patrick Higgins of Massachusetts, and Adm. Chester Nimitz. White House advisers had sold the President on appointing this board to supersede the Tydings committee for the purpose of thoroughly examining the question of communism in the State Department.

A non-partisan board of judges, it was argued, would lift the question of State Department loyalty out of partisan politics and give a categoric answer to Senator McCarthy. The President, at first, was all for it.

Then this commentator predicted that the board would be appointed. Immediately the President got peeved. He was not, he made it clear to advisers, going to help make a "Pearson prediction come true."

The bipartisan Loyalty Board was scrapped, McCarthy's charges became the chief issue of the campaign, and Senator Tydings, Senator Lucas, Helen Gahagan Douglas, Senator Thomas of Utah, plus others of the President's staunchest supporters were defeated.

Had the Loyalty Board been appointed, it is more than possible that the recent election would have turned out differently.

Palace Guard

Every member of the White House secretariat knows what the President's peeves and pet aversions are. But up until recently they did little to put a quietus on them. In fact, the man who tried hardest to buck the President on certain idiosyncrasies, Clark Clifford, was the object of an intense and jealous campaign by John Steelman to euchre him out.

The White House staff know, of course, that anything even remotely critical of his wife or daughter makes the President blazing mad. The other sure-fire way to get Truman sore is to let drop the idea that someone is trying to build himself up to run for president.

This was one of the things that contributed to Louis Johnson's ouster — though there were others. For a time, Johnson had the run of the White House. He could come and go as he pleased.

Then some of the palace guard dropped word that Louey was planning to run for president in 1952, and immediately the President clammed up. Eventually it was decided to get Johnson out as secretary of defense before the Inchon landing. For, if the resignation request was made afterward, Johnson's stock would be too high. So Louey was fired one day before the Inchon landing.

When the President has time to consider a problem thoroughly and when he doesn't let personalities influence his judgment, his decisions are courageous and usually sound. Invariably he battles for the little fellow. But if, for instance, Matt Connelly, who knows all of Harry Truman's prejudices and work methods, wants to put across a deal for Pan American Airways and American Overseas Airlines, he can usually do it—by dropping a few hints and by arranging a White House conference with one key man absent.

That's why the advisers around the President are so important. That's also why they need to be men with no personal axes to grind, men swayed not by lobbyists' guiles or society dinners, but men devoted only to one cause—to see that Harry Truman does a good job for his country.

Today in Washington

U.N. Members Are Tangled in Own Political Matters to Detriment of Justice

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 14—When the United Nations was formed, the idea that it represented a means of proclaiming law and justice in international relations was foremost—yet today the members of the U.N. have gotten themselves so tangled up in their own political expendiencies that they have made a shambles of both law and justice.

Thus, the Communist government of China committed outrages against international law, but the government of Great Britain and other governments nevertheless extended formal recognition to that government.

The United States government, on the other hand, still recognizes the Nationalist government, which has a base on Formosa, and does so because no other government has arisen in China which is capable of discharging international obligations or honoring its pledges.

The United Nations members, although aware that China has a permanent seat in the Security Council with the enduring power of veto that goes with a permanent seat, did not consult with each other before extending recognition and decide the question collectively. Instead, each government went its separate way—though obviously the capacity of a new government to discharge its obligations is a matter of real substance. It cannot be dismissed as a technical affair of no interest to the family of nations.

The hypocrisy of the age is such today that, in order to justify their error in accepting a bad government by giving it recognition, refuge is taken by such nations in the argument that it doesn't matter who rules a country so long as it has physical control. The United States government for 17 years prior to 1933 declined to accept as decisive the fact that the Soviet Communists had physical control of Russia but demanded as a condition of recognition certain written assurances and pledges—which, incidentally, have since been violated repeatedly.

Today the only recognized government in Korea is that of the Republic of Korea. The United Nations sent a commission there to help it get established. The U.N. placed its blessing on the government of that country, and it was Communist Russia which prevented the faction in northern Korea from allowing the U. N. Commission to conduct elections or even to visit and inspect North Korea.

Now the Chinese Communist regime, giving military assistance to North Koreans, has attacked U.N. troops. This act of aggression has been committed not just against the Republic of Korea but against the U.N. itself. Yet, when the Republic of Korea asks for military help and the Nationalist government of China is ready to furnish such help, the constituted government of Korea is prevented from accepting it.

In international law a constituted government may call on outside governments for aid, and it is considered lawful. The aid given to the Rhee government by the U.N. is in accord with international law, and it would be the same if the Republic of Korea were to be given aid by the Nationalist armies now on Formosa.

The situation is growing more and more damaging to the U.N. every day that its troops are threatened by Chinese Communist forces. The so-called "cease fire" order is a logical thing to strive for, but it doesn't alter the position of the U.N., which cannot from any legal or moral standpoint accept the Chinese Communists on a basis of equality. The only basis on which Communist China can be treated is on the basis of its wrongdoing—its aggression.

Actually Hitler would have been glad many a time during the last war to make a negotiated peace but on terms that would have preserved the Nazi regime. The Allied forces fought until the Nazi regime was defeated and then they proceeded to punish the aggressors.

Today there are governments in the U.N. which apparently are willing to negotiate with an aggressor state. This is the first time since the period before 1939 that an aggressor has been given such treatment—virtually as an equal among the countries which have been resisting his aggression.

What is most disconcerting is the number of persons here and abroad who wave aside all considerations of law and justice and say that anything is preferable to war. This is the road to deterioration. It is only a question of time then when the aggressor moves again and the peace-at-any-price countries are caught in a war just the same.

Says Action Warranted

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan says his general investigation of New York city's fire department warrants grand jury action. Hogan announced yesterday that a grand jury would be asked "to determine to what extent, if any, extorionate practices are prevalent in the department."

Doctor Injured During Army Recruit Interview

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A doctor being interviewed at army and air force recruiting headquarters was injured yesterday when his right fist and arm went through a window pane.

Lt. Col. William A. Haviland, district recruiting officer, said the man had punched the window pane.

Colonel Haviland declined to name the doctor, but police identified him as Dr. Cornelius Beauenkamp, 32, a physician at Rockland State Hospital, Orangeburg, N. Y. Police said the man had fallen accidentally and suffered cuts when his hand and arm went through the glass. He was treated at Beekman-Downtown Hospital and discharged.

Colonel Haviland said the doctor was being interviewed by Dr. Hugo Engel, a psychiatrist. On Dec. 6 the physician had gone to the army building with other doctors in answer to a call for their physical examination. He had not been summoned to return yesterday.

Colonel Haviland said Dr. Engel told him the physician apparently became upset during the interview and put his fist through the window in an outburst of anger.

Gas in Tunnel Explodes

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 14 (AP)—A tunnel apparently filled with gas exploded at the Charleston Navy Yard last night. Windows half a mile away were shattered. Persons 11 miles away said they felt the blast, but no one was injured. The navy said "seepage of some type of gas" apparently had accumulated in a large concrete tunnel and was set off by a spark or by static electricity.

Correct this sentence: "I am so glad," said the spinster, "that our boys are marrying Australian girls."

First Neighbor—That young wife certainly worships her husband.

Second Neighbor — Yes, she places burnt offerings before him every day.

Prof.—What are you doing in college, anyway?

Fresh.—I was about to ask you the same question.

Saul—Are you taking good care of your cold?

Paul—I certainly am. I've had it six weeks, and it's as good as new.

Night Before Christmas

On the night before Christmas, I felt like a louse,
To think, I'd forgotten a gift for my spouse;
The children's, I'd tucked safely under our beds
In hope, to look there, wouldn't enter their heads.
Of course I'd have settled, right then, for a nap
But, instead, went downtown in the old rattletrap.
Up this street, down that one, I drove with a clatter
As people turned 'round to see what was the matter.
The chances for parking, I found, were quite thin
But finally I made it, then turned to begin.
The store lights, so bright on the new-fallen snow
I realized now were no longer a-glow.
With a few fancy cuss words, I went right to work
Couldn't find a shop open and felt like a jerk.
After walking and searching 'til ready to drop,
I returned to my car and—there stood a cop.
He was plump, dressed in blue, with a leer on his mug,
For he'd noticed I'd parked by a red fire-plug.
The ticket he wrote hauled me into night-court
Where the judge, at first glance, seemed a pretty good sport.
As I told my sad story, he rubbed his long nose,
Nodded, then said, "Here is what I propose.
I have purchased a necklace my wife doesn't wish
Which I'm willing to part with for 200 fish."
You can see I was not in a spot to decline,
So I put up the dough—along with my fine.
I leaned in my car feeling things were a fizzle,
At the same time quite sure this was no time to chisel.
But I heard him exclaim ere I drove out of sight,
"Merry Christmas, you sucker, it's been a good night."

100,000 Chinese

the general picture in the critical Hamhung-Hungnam area of northeast Korea. But a U. S. 10th Corps spokesman there estimated that 10 Chinese divisions were putting pressure on the slender beachhead from three directions.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported two light ground attacks on the perimeter, which embraces Hamhung and its Hungnam port on the Sea of Japan coast.

Attacks Repulsed

Both attacks were repulsed. Chinese in company strength wore captured American uniforms in the first probing attack.

The perimeter is manned by elements of three American and two South Korean divisions plus British and Puerto Rico units. They are from among the 60,000 or more allied troops drawn to the beachhead from all northeast Korea.

Chinese menacing the perimeter were hammered by carrier-based marine and naval fighter-bombers. Also protecting the beachhead were the long-range guns of American warships.

Field officers expected a sharp fight within the near future.

Correspondent Swinton reported Chinese forces were sweeping down from the north on foot. The heaviest force was moving through the Suchong valley north of Hamhung.

Elements Move On

West of the Hamhung-Koto road other Chinese elements moved toward the beachhead. A third force swung down from the northeastern coastal road, still well to the north of the right flank of the defense perimeter.

On the Eighth Army's northwest front, there were relatively small engagements. The largest of these was a fight between South Korean Fifth Division and Red forces near Chunchon, about 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

Those Red forces evidently were part of eight to 12 new or revived North Korean divisions. General MacArthur in his daily war summary reported the divisions were "raised or rehabilitated" since the allies crushed the North Korean army.

MacArthur said "it is entirely possible" that many of the Korean Reds thrown back into the campaign were trained in Manchuria—safe from U.N. air attacks.

Reds Are Blasted

Fifth Air Force planes blasted the Reds in the Chunchon area with jellied gasoline fire-bombs and rockets. Victims of the assault were among more than 2,500 Reds killed or wounded Wednesday in strikes against troops and supply lines throughout northwest Korea.

The rescue of 8,400 military personnel and allied civilians from Chinnampo last week was disclosed by Far East naval headquarters Thursday.

Chinnampo is on the Yellow Sea coast of northwestern Korea. It is the port for Pyongyang, Red capital abandoned by allied forces in their retreat southward.

The rescued personnel included American doughboys, doctors and nurses, South Korean political figures, soldiers, Boy Scouts, refugees and Red Chinese prisoners of war.

The amphibious withdrawal was made under a tight cloak of security the night of Dec. 4.

Truman's Choice

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Lt. Gen. Nathan Farragut Twining for promotion to vice chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force with the rank of a four star general. The nomination went to the Senate with that of Paul C. Daniels of New York to be ambassador to Ecuador. Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad was nominated to be commander in chief of U. S. Air Forces in Europe. Lt. Gen. Idwal Hubert Edwards was nominated to be deputy chief of staff, operations, headquarters, of the air force.

Curfew Is On Again In Singapore Area

Singapore, Dec. 14 (AP)—Police reimposed Singapore's dusk-to-dawn curfew today in an effort to keep a curb on mob violence which has taken 17 lives since Monday.

The curfew had been lifted only six hours before.

Eighty more Malays were arrested in the central area of the island and held for questioning. This brought to at least 181 the number arrested in the riots growing out of a court fight for custody of a 13-year-old white girl.

The riots which broke out Monday, kindled by Moslem wrath over a court ruling that Maria Bertha Hertogh, 13-year-old Dutch girl reared and married as a Moslem, should be restored to the custody of her Roman Catholic mother, Mrs. Adeline Hertogh.

More Cold Forecast

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP) — More cold weather was the chilly outlook for most of the eastern half of the country today. Some warming was expected in the southeastern states. A new batch of cold air headed for the midwest with sub-zero readings forecast for tonight in the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota. Temperatures were erratic in the upper Mississippi valley because of local clearing which resulted in below zero readings in some areas. One of the lowest marks was -15 at Grantsburg, Wis.

The more feed and water consumed by laying hens, the better the chances for high egg production.

Drouth Program

good as there. Two others probably will pass.

Only statehood for Hawaii and Alaska appeared doomed—talked to death in the Senate.

Still to get past the Senate is the President's $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax proposal. Whittled down to $3,400,000,000 by the House, it is now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee. Senate action is likely sometime next week.

The big $16,844,000,000 supplemental military appropriations bill—the only item not acted on yet by either branch—is assured swift approval in both House and Senate because of the military emergency.

Leaders plan to call it up in the House tomorrow if it is ready by then.

The Yugoslav assistance program survived a barrage of amendments from its foes, who branded it a "diplomatic Pearl Harbor," a "hush money tribute" to Tito, and "appeasement of communism."

It passed its critical test when the House defeated a move by Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) to send it back to committee with instructions to rewrite it as a straight-out loan instead of a money grant.

The House did amend it to conform generally with the main provisions of the Senate bill.

It approved an amendment by Rep. Burleson (D-Texas) making the money available from available Marshall Plan Aid funds. As originally written, the bill would have required Congress to vote new money.

The President would now be authorized to divert $50,000,000 from money held by the Economic Cooperation Administration. This includes $12,000,000 already spent by the ECA for this purpose, leaving $38,000,000 for additional assistance.

ToNominateCommissioner

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Ford C. Frick, president of the National League, today announced the members of the four-man committee which will nominate a successor to Albert B. Chandler as baseball commissioner. The four are President Lou Perini of the Boston Braves, President Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs, President Ellis Ryan of the Cleveland Indians and Vice-President Del Webb of the New York Yankees. Perini and Wrigley are from the National League, Webb and Ryan from the American.

Rail Strike . . .

fer point for transcontinental mails.

Steel Industry Hit

The steel industry was hit almost immediately. Some blast furnaces were banked. There were shutdowns and curtailment of operations throughout the Chicago industrial area.

At the same time, presidents of four operating rail unions, including the BRT, said in Washington the Chicago strike may spread unless White House and government mediation efforts are stepped up to settle the wage-hour dispute.

They blamed the delay in reaching an agreement on John R. Steelman, President Truman's assistant who has been conducting the negotiations. They said the White House has been told of the "unrest" among rail yard workers.

A railroad spokesman said the strike appeared to be an attempt to force settlement of the dispute before any wage freeze or presidential declaration of a war emergency. The union seeks a 40 hour work week at 48 hours pay for its yard workers. The dispute has been before Steelman and the National (Railway) Mediation Board for more than four months.

Attlee to Broadcast

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee will report to the nation in a broadcast Saturday night on his talks with President Truman in Washington. Attlee's decision was announced after a two-hour cabinet meeting today. President Truman has scheduled a broadcast to Americans tomorrow night.

100,000 Chinese

the general picture in the critical Hamhung-Hungnam area of northeast Korea. But a U. S. 10th Corps spokesman there estimated that 10 Chinese divisions were putting pressure on the slender beachhead from three directions.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported two light ground attacks on the perimeter, which embraces Hamhung and its Hungnam port on the Sea of Japan coast.

Attacks Repulsed

Both attacks were repulsed. Chinese in company strength wore captured American uniforms in the first probing attack.

The perimeter is manned by elements of three American and two South Korean divisions plus British and Puerto Rico units. They are from among the 60,000 or more allied troops drawn to the beachhead from all northeast Korea.

Chinese menacing the perimeter were hammered by carrier-based marine and naval fighter-bombers. Also protecting the beachhead were the long-range guns of American warships.

Field officers expected a sharp fight within the near future.

Correspondent Swinton reported Chinese forces were sweeping down from the north on foot. The heaviest force was moving through the Suchong valley north of Hamhung.

Elements Move On

West of the Hamhung-Koto road other Chinese elements moved toward the beachhead. A third force swung down from the northeastern coastal road, still well to the north of the right flank of the defense perimeter.

On the Eighth Army's northwest front, there were relatively small engagements. The largest of these was a fight between South Korean Fifth Division and Red forces near Chunchon, about 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

Those Red forces evidently were part of eight to 12 new or revived North Korean divisions. General MacArthur in his daily war summary reported the divisions were "raised or rehabilitated" since the allies crushed the North Korean army.

MacArthur said "it is entirely possible" that many of the Korean Reds thrown back into the campaign were trained in Manchuria—safe from U.N. air attacks.

Reds Are Blasted

Fifth Air Force planes blasted the Reds in the Chunchon area with jellied gasoline fire-bombs and rockets. Victims of the assault were among more than 2,500 Reds killed or wounded Wednesday in strikes against troops and supply lines throughout northwest Korea.

The rescue of 8,400 military personnel and allied civilians from Chinnampo last week was disclosed by Far East naval headquarters Thursday.

Chinnampo is on the Yellow Sea coast of northwestern Korea. It is the port for Pyongyang, Red capital abandoned by allied forces in their retreat southward.

The rescued personnel included American doughboys, doctors and nurses, South Korean political figures, soldiers, Boy Scouts, refugees and Red Chinese prisoners of war.

The amphibious withdrawal was made under a tight cloak of security the night of Dec. 4.

Truman's Choice

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Lt. Gen. Nathan Farragut Twining for promotion to vice chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force with the rank of a four star general. The nomination went to the Senate with that of Paul C. Daniels of New York to be ambassador to Ecuador. Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad was nominated to be commander in chief of U. S. Air Forces in Europe. Lt. Gen. Idwal Hubert Edwards was nominated to be deputy chief of staff, operations, headquarters, of the air force.

Curfew Is On Again In Singapore Area

Singapore, Dec. 14 (AP)—Police reimposed Singapore's dusk-to-dawn curfew today in an effort to keep a curb on mob violence which has taken 17 lives since Monday.

The curfew had been lifted only six hours before.

Eighty more Malays were arrested in the central area of the island and held for questioning. This brought to at least 181 the number arrested in the riots growing out of a court fight for custody of a 13-year-old white girl.

The riots which broke out Monday, kindled by Moslem wrath over a court ruling that Maria Bertha Hertogh, 13-year-old Dutch girl reared and married as a Moslem, should be restored to the custody of her Roman Catholic mother, Mrs. Adeline Hertogh.

More Cold Forecast

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP) — More cold weather was the chilly outlook for most of the eastern half of the country today. Some warming was expected in the southeastern states. A new batch of cold air headed for the midwest with sub-zero readings forecast for tonight in the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota. Temperatures were erratic in the upper Mississippi valley because of local clearing which resulted in below zero readings in some areas. One of the lowest marks was -15 at Grantsburg, Wis.

The more feed and water consumed by laying hens, the better the chances for high egg production.

Drouth Program

good as there. Two others probably will pass.

Only statehood for Hawaii and Alaska appeared doomed—talked to death in the Senate.

Still to get past the Senate is the President's $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax proposal. Whittled down to $3,400,000,000 by the House, it is now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee. Senate action is likely sometime next week.

The big $16,844,000,000 supplemental military appropriations bill—the only item not acted on yet by either branch—is assured swift approval in both House and Senate because of the military emergency.

Leaders plan to call it up in the House tomorrow if it is ready by then.

The Yugoslav assistance program survived a barrage of amendments from its foes, who branded it a "diplomatic Pearl Harbor," a "hush money tribute" to Tito, and "appeasement of communism."

It passed its critical test when the House defeated a move by Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) to send it back to committee with instructions to rewrite it as a straight-out loan instead of a money grant.

The House did amend it to conform generally with the main provisions of the Senate bill.

It approved an amendment by Rep. Burleson (D-Texas) making the money available from available Marshall Plan Aid funds. As originally written, the bill would have required Congress to vote new money.

The President would now be authorized to divert $56,000,000 from money held by the Economic Cooperation Administration. This includes $12,000,000 already spent by the ECA for this purpose, leaving $38,000,000 for additional assistance.

ToNominateCommissioner

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Ford C. Frick, president of the National League, today announced the members of the four-man committee which will nominate a successor to Albert B. Chandler as baseball commissioner. The four are President Lou Perini of the Boston Braves, President Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs, President Ellis Ryan of the Cleveland Indians and Vice-President Del Webb of the New York Yankees. Perini and Wrigley are from the National League, Webb and Ryan from the American.

The employment of people paid to applaud dramatic performances was common in ancient times.

Rail Strike . . .

fer point for transcontinental mails.

Steel Industry Hit

The steel industry was hit almost immediately. Some blast furnaces were banked. There were shutdowns and curtailment of operations throughout the Chicago industrial area.

At the same time, presidents of four operating rail unions, including the BRT, said in Washington the Chicago strike may spread unless White House and government mediation efforts are stepped up to settle the wage-hour dispute.

They blamed the delay in reaching an agreement on John R. Steelman, President Truman's assistant who has been conducting the negotiations. They said the White House has been told of the "unrest" among rail yard workers.

A railroad spokesman said the strike appeared to be an attempt to force settlement of the dispute before any wage freeze or presidential declaration of a war emergency. The union seeks a 40 hour work week at 48 hours pay for its yard workers. The dispute has been before Steelman and the National (Railway) Mediation Board for more than four months.

Attlee to Broadcast

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee will report to the nation in a broadcast Saturday night on his talks with President Truman in Washington. Attlee's decision was announced after a two-hour cabinet meeting today. President Truman has scheduled a broadcast to Americans tomorrow night.

Chamber Favors Special Cards for Fund Solicitors

The board of directors of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night approved a proposal made by the solicitations control committee to institute a program which would require those making miscellaneous solicitations to secure an identification card from a review board or committee. An appropriate sign would be supplied members and those desiring to make certain solicitations would be required to file an application before identification cards would be issued. Robert E. Teetsel, president of the chamber presided at this regular meeting held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt reported that there are now 457 active memberships in the chamber with 18 on a delinquent list. This group will be reviewed at the January directors' meeting and the cancellation of their membership considered.

The election committee reported that over 60 envelopes containing ballots for the nomination of directors of the chamber were received in the first mail on Tuesday indicating a keen interest in the forthcoming election. The committee requested that all, who have not already done so, list the seven persons of their choice as director, on the ballot received on Monday, and return same to the chamber office.

President Teetsel reported that the temporary steering committee considering plans for the 300th anniversary of the first settlement here in 1952 would meet tonight, elect a chairman and discuss more definite plans to propose for the celebration.

A financial report by Treasurer Victor H. Roth showed a balance on hand December 1 of $3,896.12. A budget progress report showed that only $3,504.53 is needed to complete the year ending May 1, without a deficit. It was pointed out that the budget for the year is very modest and that additional receipts would make it possible to expand activities.

The next regular meeting was postponed to January 16, after the election of directors has been completed. The newly-elected directors will be invited to attend this meeting and participate in the election of officers for 1951. The meeting Tuesday night was the last regular meeting for the directors whose terms expire with the forthcoming election. Under the by-laws a director having served a full term of three years is not eligible for re-election until at least one year has elapsed.

It was also reported that the education committee of which Arthur B. Ewig is chairman, will make an effort to organize a group to conduct panels before local meetings which would discuss and lead the discussion on advantage of the economic system, the need for better understanding, tolerance and a recognition of the benefits of the competitive system and form of government in the U. S.

Those present at the meeting included President Teetsel, Emil G. Boessneck, Pratt Boice, J. Ellis Briggs, James P. Byrne, Eugene B. Carey, Byron S. Chatham, Joseph Deegan, Addison Jones, Adrian Kaplan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Clifford C. Rose, Victor H. Roth, Elmer Rylance, George W. Schneider, Henry Singer, and Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Chamber Favors Special Cards for Fund Solicitors

The board of directors of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night approved a proposal made by the solicitations control committee to institute a program which would require those making miscellaneous solicitations to secure an identification card from a review board or committee. An appropriate sign would be supplied members and those desiring to make certain solicitations would be required to file an application before identification cards would be issued. Robert E. Teetsel, president of the chamber presided at this regular meeting held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt reported that there are now 457 active memberships in the chamber with 18 on a delinquent list. This group will be reviewed at the January directors' meeting and the cancellation of their membership considered.

The election committee reported that over 60 envelopes containing ballots for the nomination of directors of the chamber were received in the first mail on Tuesday indicating a keen interest in the forthcoming election. The committee requested that all, who have not already done so, list the seven persons of their choice as director, on the ballot received on Monday, and return same to the chamber office.

President Teetsel reported that the temporary steering committee considering plans for the 300th anniversary of the first settlement here in 1952 would meet tonight, elect a chairman and discuss more definite plans to propose for the celebration.

A financial report by Treasurer Victor H. Roth showed a balance on hand December 1 of $3,896.12. A budget progress report showed that only $3,504.53 is needed to complete the year ending May 1, without a deficit. It was pointed out that the budget for the year is very modest and that additional receipts would make it possible to expand activities.

The next regular meeting was postponed to January 16, after the election of directors has been completed. The newly-elected directors will be invited to attend this meeting and participate in the election of officers for 1951. The meeting Tuesday night was the last regular meeting for the directors whose terms expire with the forthcoming election. Under the by-laws a director having served a full term of three years is not eligible for re-election until at least one year has elapsed.

It was also reported that the education committee of which Arthur B. Ewig is chairman, will make an effort to organize a group to conduct panels before local meetings which would discuss and lead the discussion on advantage of the economic system, the need for better understanding, tolerance and a recognition of the benefits of the competitive system and form of government in the U. S.

Those present at the meeting included President Teetsel, Emil G. Boessneck, Pratt Boice, J. Ellis Briggs, James P. Byrne, Eugene B. Carey, Byron S. Chatham, Joseph Deegan, Addison Jones, Adrian Kaplan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Clifford C. Rose, Victor H. Roth, Elmer Rylance, George W. Schneider, Henry Singer, and Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt.

FALSE 'TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). As Pegler Sees It compromise. But another script was substituted for Jim's.

Father Edward J. Carney, of Lawrence, Mass., the Augustinian priest who was national chaplain of the Legion at the time, slipped one over on them, though. For his own oration, he used the text that originally had been assigned to him as his part of Jim's pageant. Father Carney thought this was the best of it all.

Recently, Robinson went to McGuinness. He wanted to clear himself of unjust, absurd suspicions that he was not 100 per cent in sympathy with the American Constitution. He had given money to lots of causes that were not pro-Communist. Jim never knew who had accused him of what when he was whispered out, but he told Robinson that he deserved a hearing. All he had to do was go to the Committee on Un-American Activities and tell the committee, under oath, all he knew about communism in Hollywood. Incidentally, Robinson had not been whispered out, whatever the charges may have been that he considered to be unjust. Other actors had been whispered out for fighting the treason, but Robinson hadn't suffered for his noble breadth of mind.

At last Robinson did go to the committee, but all he did was make a statement to Lou Russell, the chief investigator, and on that basis was given an acquittal. Robinson was not sworn and no member of the committee was present, but Russell gave a statement to the press that Robinson had cleared himself.

Thus Robinson wiped the slate clean of nine previous entries in Index IX of the committee, the standard authority on such activities, and Jim McGuinness, who never had had anything to explain, came back to New York wearily fighting to the end.

Late Bulletin

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The United Nations Assembly today approved an Asian-Arab plan for a Korean cease-fire despite Soviet bloc warnings that this would not end the fighting.

The vote was 52 to 5 with Nationalist China abstaining. The Soviet bloc countries cast the negative votes.

The proposal creates a three-man committee, headed by Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam of Iran, and directs it to seek a basis for a truce. Entezam deferred naming the committee.

Russia's Jacob A. Malik vigorously opposed it as a move to give the United States and Britain a chance to prepare a new attack.

Polish Delegate Stefan Wierblowski told the assembly the ceasefire proposal would not stop the Korean fighting. This had been assumed by most delegates as a result of the Soviet bloc opposition, but some had clung to a slender hope that the Chinese Communists still might agree to a truce.

Terminal to Open

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—At midnight tomorrow the Port of New York Authority opens its new $24,000,000 bus terminal. Officials have estimated a time saving of 20-minutes a trip to-and-from northern New Jersey and Rockland county, N. Y., and a 15 to 20 minute saving between Manhattan and the Plainfield area. Within a few months most of Jersey's bus lines will be loading and unloading there in the swank confines of the world's largest bus depot—a three-story fluorescent-lighted building—covering a whole city block on Eighth avenue between 40th and 41st streets. Some 72 buses can be accommodated at one time on the loading levels of the 800 by 200 foot structure and 735 every hour.

Say Charges Collapse Against Mrs. Rosenberg

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Senator Morse (R-Ore) said today charges of Communist sympathy against Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna M. Rosenberg "have collapsed completely for lack of proof."

Morse is a member of the Armed Services Committee, which has been holding closed hearings on Mrs. Rosenberg's nomination. It had unanimously recommended on Nov. 29 that she be confirmed, but Senate action has been held up for investigation of new allegations.

Mrs. Rosenberg has repeatedly denied any sympathy for communism or its fronts.

Senator Russell (D-Ga), acting committee chairman, said the group is keeping its records open while it looks for a "very material witness." He named the witness as George Starr.

Other senators said a "George Starr" was mentioned by Ralph De Sola as an FBI agent. De Sola, who says he is a former Communist party member, testified he had seen Mrs. Rosenberg at Communist meetings in New York 15 years ago.

Senators who have heard the secret testimony said several other witnesses, who De Sola said could confirm his charges, have denied them instead.

Believe Red Combine Has Manchuria Base

Hong Kong, Dec. 14 (AP)—Informed quarters said today they regarded as "highly possible" reports that Russia, Red China and North Korea had set up joint military headquarters somewhere in Manchuria.

However, they said they could not confirm the reports.

A rumor of the joint military setup has been circulating here, but not from "definitely reliable" sources.

Other reports said the reported headquarters was established a month and a half ago either at the Manchurian capital of Mukden or Changchun. Mukden is about 120 miles northwest of the North Korean border. Chankchun is northeast of Mukden, about 150 miles north of Red Korea, and is approximately 230 miles west of the Soviet Siberian border.

Bonds Are Sold For $12,000,000 By Central Hudson

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation announced today that it has negotiated the sale of $12,000,000 of new 30-year, 2⅞ per cent, first mortgage bonds. The bonds were sold with the advice and assistance of Kidder, Peabody & Co. The announcement immediately followed a decision of the New York State Public Service Commission permitting the negotiated sale.

Buyers of the $12,000,000 bond issue are Bankers Trust Company, as trustee and agent of various pension funds, $7,000,000; Aetna Life Insurance Company, $2,000,000; Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, $2,000,000; Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company, $500,000; and Union Central Life Insurance Company, $500,000.

Seven million dollars of the bonds will be delivered and sold on about December 15, 1950 at 2.81 per cent yield basis to maturity. Two and a half million dollars of bonds will be delivered in March, 1951 at a 2.825 per cent yield basis and 2½ million will be delivered in June, 1951 at a 2.84 per cent yield basis. The average weighted price of all bonds will be 101.12 at an average cost to Central Hudson of 2.81 per cent.

Proceeds of the bond sale will be used to meet part of the cost of the company's 1950-1951 construction program. The company has recently introduced natural gas to its customers. Other projects in its construction program include a 60,000 kilowatt steam generating station, a 25,000 kilowatt hydroelectric generating station, the extension of transmission and distribution lines and many other improvements.

Permanent financing of the post-war construction program was begun in 1949 by the sale of $2,000,000 of preferred stock and $6,000,000 of convertible debentures. Completion of the program will require the sale of additional securities in late 1951.

'Lie' Is Charged

Washingtno, Dec. 14 (AP)—The State Department denounced as a "naked lie" today a Moscow claim that the United States and Japan have taken the first steps to rebuild the Japanese Army. The department, in a bristling statement, said it looks as though the Communist propaganda machine is possibly preparing the way to put into effect the new alliance between Russia and Communist China.

Believe Red Combine Has Manchuria Base

Hong Kong, Dec. 14 (AP)—Informed quarters said today they regarded as "highly possible" reports that Russia, Red China and North Korea had set up joint military headquarters somewhere in Manchuria.

However, they said they could not confirm the reports.

A rumor of the joint military setup has been circulating here, but not from "definitely reliable" sources.

Other reports said the reported headquarters was established a month and a half ago either at the Manchurian capital of Mukden or Changchun. Mukden is about 120 miles northwest of the North Korean border. Chankchun is northeast of Mukden, about 150 miles north of Red Korea, and is approximately 230 miles west of the Soviet Siberian border.

Bonds Are Sold For $12,000,000 By Central Hudson

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation announced today that it has negotiated the sale of $12,000,000 of new 30-year, 2⅞ per cent, first mortgage bonds. The bonds were sold with the advice and assistance of Kidder, Peabody & Co. The announcement immediately followed a decision of the New York State Public Service Commission permitting the negotiated sale.

Buyers of the $12,000,000 bond issue are Bankers Trust Company, as trustee and agent of various pension funds, $7,000,000; Aetna Life Insurance Company, $2,000,000; Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, $2,000,000; Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company, $500,000; and Union Central Life Insurance Company, $500,000.

Seven million dollars of the bonds will be delivered and sold on about December 15, 1950 at 2.81 per cent yield basis to maturity. Two and a half million dollars of bonds will be delivered in March, 1951 at a 2.825 per cent yield basis and 2½ million will be delivered in June, 1951 at a 2.84 per cent yield basis. The average weighted price of all bonds will be 101.12 at an average cost to Central Hudson of 2.81 per cent.

Proceeds of the bond sale will be used to meet part of the cost of the company's 1950-1951 construction program. The company has recently introduced natural gas to its customers. Other projects in its construction program include a 60,000 kilowatt steam generating station, a 25,000 kilowatt hydroelectric generating station, the extension of transmission and distribution lines and many other improvements.

Permanent financing of the post-war construction program was begun in 1949 by the sale of $2,000,000 of preferred stock and $6,000,000 of convertible debentures. Completion of the program will require the sale of additional securities in late 1951.

The engineer, Victor Del Guercio of Philadelphia, will report his findings to the State Water Pollution Control Board. The information will be used to assign classification standards to the waters and setting up a pollution abatement program.

'Lie' Is Charged

Washingtno, Dec. 14 (AP)—The State Department denounced as a "naked lie" today a Moscow claim that the United States and Japan have taken the first steps to rebuild the Japanese Army. The department, in a bristling statement, said it looks as though the Communist propaganda machine is possibly preparing the way to put into effect the new alliance between Russia and Communist China.

"Double!" said East, with very great firmness and clarity. Surely every bridge player has heard that sort of penalty double. It usually means "Boy, this is too good to be true." That's exactly what East thought in this case.

North almost raised to two clubs on the first round of the bidding, but felt that his hand was just a little too skinny for a free raise. Later on, he felt that the spades would make just as good a trump suit as the clubs (he was wrong) and that it was safer to play for 10 tricks at spades than 11 tricks at clubs (also wrong).

Perhaps the chief trouble with North's bidding was that he wasn't absolutely sure that his partner had a real club suit. He should have been, but if North had bid five clubs there would have been no story. South would have made five clubs with both eyes closed.

Four spades was no such cinch. West opened the hearts and continued the suit, South ruffing the second round. After this, West was practically a spectator. His hand was of no further interest to anybody.

South led a diamond to the king and returned a small trump to finesse the ten. He was not surprised when West discarded. South had heard the decisiveness of the penalty double, after all.

As though 5-0 trump breaks were everyday affairs, South nonchalantly led the ace and then the king of clubs. East ruffed and looked doubtful for the first time.

It was clearly no use returning trump. South would take the queen and ace of trumps, leaving dummy with the blank jack and East with the blank king. Then South would lead clubs until East was ready to take the king of trumps. That would be all.

A diamond return was equally hopeless. South would take the diamond ace and lead clubs. East could take a second trump trick, of course, but then nothing could stop declarer from ruffing a diamond in dummy, picking up the rest of the trumps with a finesse, and then taking the remaining clubs.

East therefore returned the king of hearts. South carefully discarded a club—not his precious losing diamond—and ruffed in dummy with the four of spades. He next cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy with the five of spades. Then he went back to the clubs.

East ruffed, but then had left only two trumps and a diamond. If he led a trump, South would win the finesse, draw the last trump, and cash a club. Hence East led his last diamond. But South was ready for that too. He ruffed in dummy with the jack, discarding the last club from his hand. Now dummy had the lead, and South was bound to win the last two tricks with the ace and queen of trumps.

"Double!" said East, with very great firmness and clarity. Surely every bridge player has heard that sort of penalty double. It usually means "Boy, this is too good to be true." That's exactly what East thought in this case.

North almost raised to two clubs on the first round of the bidding, but felt that his hand was just a little too skinny for a free raise. Later on, he felt that the spades would make just as good a trump suit as the clubs (he was wrong) and that it was safer to play for 10 tricks at spades than 11 tricks at clubs (also wrong).

Perhaps the chief trouble with North's bidding was that he wasn't absolutely sure that his partner had a real club suit. He should have been, but if North had bid five clubs there would have been no story. South would have made five clubs with both eyes closed.

Four spades was no such cinch. West opened the hearts and continued the suit, South ruffing the second round. After this, West was practically a spectator. His hand was of no further interest to anybody.

South led a diamond to the king and returned a small trump to finesse the ten. He was not surprised when West discarded. South had heard the decisiveness of the penalty double, after all.

As though 5-0 trump breaks were everyday affairs, South nonchalantly led the ace and then the king of clubs. East ruffed and looked doubtful for the first time.

It was clearly no use returning trump. South would take the queen and ace of trumps, leaving dummy with the blank jack and East with the blank king. Then South would lead clubs until East was ready to take the king of trumps. That would be all.

A diamond return was equally hopeless. South would take the diamond ace and lead clubs. East could take a second trump trick, of course, but then nothing could stop declarer from ruffing a diamond in dummy, picking up the rest of the trumps with a finesse, and then taking the remaining clubs.

East therefore returned the king of hearts. South carefully discarded a club—not his precious losing diamond—and ruffed in dummy with the four of spades. He next cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy with the five of spades. Then he went back to the clubs.

East ruffed, but then had left only two trumps and a diamond. If he led a trump, South would win the finesse, draw the last trump, and cash a club. Hence East led his last diamond. But South was ready for that too. He ruffed in dummy with the jack, discarding the last club from his hand. Now dummy had the lead, and South was bound to win the last two tricks with the ace and queen of trumps.

Some Are Fussy

San Quentin, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP) — Some convicts are particular about their Christmas tree. Warden Clinton Duffy sent a tree into San Quentin's death row yesterday. Lewis Franklin Smith started to decorate it. But Caryl Chessman, 29, declared the tree was crooked and unfit. He gouged Smith's cheek with a sharp pencil. John Allen slugged Chessman, fracturing his own hand. Smith and Allen went to the prison hospital for repairs; Chessman to solitary confinement. Chessman was sentenced to die for armed kidnap-rape; Smith and Allen for killing a fellow convict at Folsom prison.

'Brightest Lighting Ever'

Bloomfield, N. J., Dec. 14 (AP)— This Yuletide will be marked by the brightest holiday lighting ever, the Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s lamp division said today. In 1949, American manufacturers produced a total of 435 million Christmas tree bulbs. Demand has been so heavy this year that Westinghouse said it has doubled its output facilities over last year. It produces the bulbs in plants here and in Richmond, Ky. H. J. Hanbury, manager of Westinghouse Christmas tree bulb sales, attributed the demand largely to a tendency toward more lights on each indoor tree, and to the increased popularity of outdoor lighting.

Advocates Shelters

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP)— California's civilian defense chief advocates backyard bomb shelters for the San Francisco Bay area's 2,766,000 residents. Maj. Gen. W. M. Roberts, Ret., yesterday told civil defense officers of 69 communities: The international situation is similar to that on Dec. 6, 1941 — the day before Pearl Harbor.

'Honeybear' Elected

Boston, Dec. 14 (AP)—The daughter of the governor of California has been named sweetheart of the 1954 class of Boston University's College of Business Administration. Nina "Honeybear" Warren, 17, daughter of Gov. Earl Warren, was elected last night. The class likes the spirit of the girl who is convalescing from an attack of polio. Along with Christmas gifts, the class sent a letter to Nina saying: "We thought our humble offer of making you our 'sweetheart' would bring a little more joy to you. We hope that these little gifts will help speed your recovery."

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church has approved a missionary appropriation of $14,134,566 for 1951-52—the largest in the history of the denomination. Before concluding its annual meeting yesterday, the board split the sum up three ways — $5,964,910 for overseas work in 40 countries; $2,429,449 for work in U. S. missions and $5,740,207 for the women's division of Christian service at home and abroad.

Moscow Cites 'Failure'

Moscow, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Literary Gazette asserted today that American troops are not succeeding in efforts to halt their Korean retreat along a new defense line. The military commentator for the Soviet periodical declared U. S. and British troops are permeated by poor morale and a spirit of defeat. Meanwhile Red Star, organ of the Red army, accused U. S. authorities in Japan of conscripting Japanese workers and sending them forcibly into Korea to construct new defense works there.

To Broadcast Speech

New York, Dec. 14 (AP) — A speech on the international situation by New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will be broadcast tonight over three nationwide radio networks. The Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Company will carry the governor's address from 10-10:30 p. m. (EST). The Mutual Broadcasting System will present a delayed broadcast of the speech from 11:30 p. m. to midnight (EST). The titular GOP leader will speak at the annual dinner of the New York County Lawyers Association. He will outline his ideas on how the U. S. should meet the world crisis.

Republicans Make Last Ditch Stand On Foreign Policy

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP) — A four-man Senate Republican Policy Subcommittee decided to make a last-ditch effort today to agree on a foreign policy declaration for the Republicans.

The fourth meeting for the group, set up a week ago to draft a foreign policy statement for presentation to the Senate's 43 GOP lawmakers, appeared to have only a 50-50 chance of ending in any agreement. No hour was set for the session.

The heart of the problem appeared to be whether Senate Republicans, as a party, should formally declare they have no confidence in Secretary of State Acheson and demand that President Truman fire him.

This was proposed in a formal resolution submitted by Senator Ives (R-NY) a week ago to the Senate Republican Policy Committee which promptly checked it to the subcommittee for overhauling. There have been no less than four alternative drafts considered. Meantime, there is evidence that some of the ardor for seeking Acheson's removal in the present crisis has cooled.

Ives, a member of the policy subcommittee, told a news conference last night after the third session had broken up:

"No final agreement was reached on anything. * * * If we can't reach agreement tomorrow, we'll have to report back to the policy committee our inability to agree."

The four senators did agree that the matter will be pursued in any event.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo), chairman of the Senate GOP conference, said he was "quite confident there will be a conference on the subject handled by the subcommittee."

Ives said there was no way the Republicans could drop the foreign policy issue. Senator H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey put it this way: "We have got to arrive at our destination." Senate Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska, the fourth subcommittee member, said the matter would not be allowed to die.

'Honeybear' Elected

Boston, Dec. 14 (AP)—The daughter of the governor of California has been named sweetheart of the 1954 class of Boston University's College of Business Administration. Nina "Honeybear" Warren, 17, daughter of Gov. Earl Warren, was elected last night. The class likes the spirit of the girl who is convalescing from an attack of polio. Along with Christmas gifts, the class sent a letter to Nina saying: "We thought our humble offer of making you our 'sweetheart' would bring a little more joy to you. We hope that these little gifts will help speed your recovery."

Appropriation Approved

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church has approved a missionary appropriation of $14,134,566 for 1951-52—the largest in the history of the denomination. Before concluding its annual meeting yesterday, the board split the sum up three ways — $5,964,910 for overseas work in 40 countries; $2,429,449 for work in U. S. missions and $5,740,207 for the women's division of Christian service at home and abroad.

Moscow Cites 'Failure'

Moscow, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Literary Gazette asserted today that American troops are not succeeding in efforts to halt their Korean retreat along a new defense line. The military commentator for the Soviet periodical declared U. S. and British troops are permeated by poor morale and a spirit of defeat. Meanwhile Red Star, organ of the Red army, accused U. S. authorities in Japan of conscripting Japanese workers and sending them forcibly into Korea to construct new defense works there.

To Broadcast Speech

New York, Dec. 14 (AP) — A speech on the international situation by New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will be broadcast tonight over three nationwide radio networks. The Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Company will carry the governor's address from 10-10:30 p. m. (EST). The Mutual Broadcasting System will present a delayed broadcast of the speech from 11:30 p. m. to midnight (EST). The titular GOP leader will speak at the annual dinner of the New York County Lawyers Association. He will outline his ideas on how the U. S. should meet the world crisis.

Republicans Make Last Ditch Stand On Foreign Policy

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP) — A four-man Senate Republican Policy Subcommittee decided to make a last-ditch effort today to agree on a foreign policy declaration for the Republicans.

The fourth meeting for the group, set up a week ago to draft a foreign policy statement for presentation to the Senate's 43 GOP lawmakers, appeared to have only a 50-50 chance of ending in any agreement. No hour was set for the session.

The heart of the problem appeared to be whether Senate Republicans, as a party, should formally declare they have no confidence in Secretary of State Acheson and demand that President Truman fire him.

This was proposed in a formal resolution submitted by Senator Ives (R-NY) a week ago to the Senate Republican Policy Committee which promptly checked it to the subcommittee for overhauling. There have been no less than four alternative drafts considered. Meantime, there is evidence that some of the ardor for seeking Acheson's removal in the present crisis has cooled.

Ives, a member of the policy subcommittee, told a news conference last night after the third session had broken up:

"No final agreement was reached on anything. * * * If we can't reach agreement tomorrow, we'll have to report back to the policy committee our inability to agree."

The four senators did agree that the matter will be pursued in any event.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo), chairman of the Senate GOP conference, said he was "quite confident there will be a conference on the subject handled by the subcommittee."

Ives said there was no way the Republicans could drop the foreign policy issue. Senator H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey put it this way: "We have got to arrive at our destination." Senate Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska, the fourth subcommittee member, said the matter would not be allowed to die.

Sherwood Davis Is Head of Committee On City Founding

Sherwood Davis, local attorney, was elected chairman of a steering committee to consider plans for observance of the 300th anniversary of the first permanent white settlement in the Kingston area in 1652, at a meeting Wednesday night in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The group, headed by Robert E. Teetsel, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, as temporary chairman, discussed the point as to whether 1952 was the proper year. The fact that the 250th anniversary was observed in 1908 was discussed and it was also pointed out that historians say that the first permanent settlement was established in 1652.

As a caution against being historically incorrect, Chairman Davis appointed a committee consisting of Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Mrs. Celeste K. Porter, and Capt. Andrew S. Hickey to confer with the state historian before definite plans are proposed.

On a tentative basis the possible form of a suitable celebration was discussed at some length. All present favored a focal pageant built around the early history of Kingston. Some favored a series of days or weeks built around art, music, flowers, the church, old stone houses and others, in addition to the pageant. Other features discussed as possibilities were a commemorative half dollar, a special postage stamp, souvenir program, special posters and essay contest.

Chairman Davis stated today that another meeting of the steering committee will be held as soon as the date information can be verified and also that future plans depend a great deal upon the developments in the international situation. Those present at the meeting Wednesday night in addition to Attorney Davis and President Teetsel were Miss Florence Cordts, recording secretary, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. George V. D. Hutton, Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, Rabbi Bloom, Captain Hickey, Albert Kurdt, Arthur J. Laidlaw, Maynard Mizel and Morgan Ryan. Several members of the committee found it impossible to attend.

MT. MARION

Mt. Marion, Dec. 13—Mr. and Mrs. James O'Hara spent the week-end in New York.

A card party was held in the parish hall on Thursday evening and the proceeds donated to the moving picture fund of the Sunday school.

Robert Anderson and sister, Mrs. Winnie Kimball have returned from the Kingston Hospital where they were patients after an automobile accident last week.

Sarawak Prospers

Kuching, Sarawak (AP)—This British crown colony is prospering. It expects to end the 1950 financial year with a big surplus. Governor Anthony Abell told the Council Negri in Kuching recently that Sarawak's revenue had been much greater than what was expected a year ago. The governor said the increase was to a large extent due to the rise in the price of rubber. He added this year's revenue, therefore, could not be regarded as a normal one.

Refuse Combat

Saigon, Indochina, Dec. 14 (AP)—French Army Headquarters announced tonight that Communist-led Vietminh troops refused combat before French forces attacking northeast of Hanoi and fled into the mountains. A military spokesman said French troops occupied four fortified Vietminh villages during the first phase of the operation without meeting any resistance. Fifty prisoners were taken. The French operations were part of a drive calculated to upset preparation for an offensive by Ho Chi Minjs insurgent forces.

Pearson-McCarthy Bout Is Reported; Witness Is Silent

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Physican violence erupted between Senator Joe McCarthy and Columnist Drew Pearson the other night. The two had different versions and the only acknowledged witness wasn't talking.

McCarthy, the Republican senator from Wisconsin, promised to tell his colleagues something about Pearson today. But he said he wouldn't talk about their encounter.

The two are not buddies. McCarthy has been conducting a months-long campaign against what he calls Communist influences in the State Department and elsewhere. Pearson has written and broadcast critically of the senator.

The incident occurred—the accounts jibed in this, at least—at the swank Sulgrave Club on Tuesday night. Another columnist and radio commentator, Fulton Lewis, Jr., broadcast the first public account of it last night.

Post-Fight Quotes

The pertinent post-fight quotes:

McCarthy: "I smacked him with my open hand and knocked him down on his hips. I didn't punch him."

Pearson: "The senator kicked me twice in the groin. As usual he hit below the belt. But his pugilistic powers are about as ineffective as his Senate speeches. I was not hurt."

Pearson said the encounter ended when Senator Richard M. Nixon, California Republican, intervened. McCarthy said Nixon saw the fracas but didn't separate them.

Said Nixon: "I have no comment except that this incident occurred at a private party. I do not believe such foolishness should be bandied about in times like this."

Physically, the two aren't badly matched although McCarthy has the edge in age, weight and—if appearances aren't deceiving—in strength.

Pearson is tall and rangy. He observed his 53rd birthday yesterday. A Marine in World War II, McCarthy is several inches shorter but stockier. He is 41.

Started in Cloak Room

McCarthy said the whole thing started in the men's cloak room after a private party at the Sulgrave Club, which is frequented by many Washington officials.

He said Pearson came up to him and said: "'McCarthy, if you talk about personal things regarding me on the Senate floor, I'll get you.'"

McCarthy said he then slapped Pearson and said: "'Pearson, you laid down the rules. Don't be disturbed if I get a bit rough.'"

He said the columnist replied: "'You get rough and I'll get you, McCarthy. I've got more circulation than you have.'"

It was then he slapped Pearson and sat him down, McCarthy said.

Pearson's version was that the senator "kept badgering me—he kept saying he was going to make a speech in the Senate about me."

"After the party, when I was putting on my coat in the men's check room, he grabbed hold of me and kicked me," Pearson said.

False Toothers Accused

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—A government commission accused the British false teeth industry today of strangling competition to maintain high prices. The commission, set up by Parliament to investigate monopolies and restrictive practices, urged that the alleged trade restraints be prohibited by law. Target of the report was the Association of Dental Manufacturers and Traders of the United Kingdom. The commission said the association controls 90 per cent of the retail supply of dental goods in this country. The false teeth industry has boomed sharply since 1948, when Britain's national health act went into effect. Since then, false teeth have been free to all comers.

Spirit of St. Louis Hits Rear of Freight Train

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad's Spirit of St. Louis rammed the rear of a derailed freight train today, knocking the diesel engine and two cars off the track. No one was injured.

Railroad officials said the wreck occurred at South Fork, 28 miles west of Altoona.

The Spirit of St. Louis was able to proceed on its trip eastward after a four hour delay.

A railroad spokesman said a freight train was derailed first at the scene of the wreck. The Spirit of St. Louis then rammed into the rear of the derailed freight train.

Four cars of the freight train were derailed in the first mishap.

The two units of the passenger train's diesel locomotive were derailed as well as a mail storage car and one sleeping car. First reports said all the cars remained upright.

The Spirit was en route to New York from Pittsburgh.

Breitel to Remain On Bench for Year

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—Charles D. Breitel, former counsel to Governor Dewey, will remain on the State Supreme Court bench for another year, by appointment of the governor.

Dewey appointed the 42-year-old Breitel yesterday to serve through 1951 as successor to former Justice Ferdinand Pecora in the 1st Judicial District. Pecora resigned to make an unsuccessful run for mayor of New York city on the Democratic and Liberal tickets.

Breitel originally was appointed to the bench in the First District last Dec. 28 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Samuel L. Null. That term expires Dec. 31.

The post in the First District, comprised of New York and Bronx counties, pays $28,000 a year.

Breitel, a Republican, was defeated last Nov. 7 when he ran for a full, 14-year term.

Expected to Run

He is expected to run again for a full term next November. Some political observers believe he will have a better chance then to obtain the Democratic endorsement that he failed to win this year.

Breitel was counsel to the governor and a key member of the Dewey political "team" for seven years until he went on the bench.

He has been associated with Dewey since 1935, when the governor was special rackets prosecutor in Manhattan. He continued on Dewey's staff when the latter was Manhattan county district attorney from 1938-1941, and the two were in private practice together in 1942.

When Dewey took office as governor Jan. 1, 1943, he appointed Breitel his counsel.

Perennial Crop?

Delburne, Alta. (AP)—In 1948, a barley crop was sown and harvested near here. Last year a good volunteer crop came through from seed accidentally scattered the year before, although the land was due to be summer fallowed. This year, another volunteer crop is under way, and looks as though it may be the heaviest of the three.

'Height of Folly'

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Talk of higher taxes to curb inflation is the "height of folly," says Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey. "It won't work," Driscoll told a luncheon meeting of the Locust Club comprised of Philadelphia business men, lawyers and political leaders yesterday. If we could curb inflation by taxation, Driscoll said, "state, county and city governments would want to get into the act and levy taxes under the guise of patriotism. Every business leader should challenge the political leaders" who campaign for higher taxes, the governor asserted.

20th Century Hears Historical Account Of Christmas Music

Assisted by Nancy and Nelson Ellsworth, Mrs. Warren Russell gave an historical account of Christmas music at the Monday night meeting of the 20th Century Club held at the home of Mrs. Maynard Mizel, 221 Albany avenue.

"Some of the old carols in use today are older than any other form of musical expression," Mrs. Russell explained. "They belong to that class of folk music which is called 'legendary,' for they have come directly from the hearts of the people. Even before England, France, or Germany had individual tongues, these songs were sung in Latin."

The praesepium, or creche, Mrs. Russell continued, was originated in 1224 by St. Francis of Assisi. It was customary, in the middle ages, to hold circle dances and singing about the Christmas figurines of the Christ child and His mother. The songs, in turn, gave birth to the first Christmas carols. As an example of carols from this period, Nancy and Nelson Ellsworth then sang "Lully Lully Lee," and the "Parthenian Carol." Handel, Mrs. Russell told the group, used the latter as the basic melody in his pastoral symphony, and also in his great oratorio, "The Messiah." Meanwhile, in modern Spain, the speaker revealed, as well as in Central and South America, choir boys still sing and dance before the altar, and around the creche. Modern counterpart of the ancient custom comes with the American Indians, who arrive at their churches Christmas eve dressed in tribal glory, beating on their tomtoms, and singing.

Music and Miracle Plays

Music played a prominent role in the old miracle plays, Mrs. Russell continued. "Enders Nyzgt" and the lovely "Wiegenlied," two 15th century songs, were then sung to illustrate the period.

Pipe playing, she reminded the group, has been associated with the shepherd's life since the days of Homer. One of the oldest, and most beautiful of the shepherd bagpipe songs, "On that Blessed Night" was next sung. "The First Noel," she explained, also a shepherd carol, has come down to us through four centuries from the early French shepherds.

Mrs. Russell then spoke of the many songs which honor the Virgin Mother, dating back to the days of the troubadours. One, the "Seven Joys of Mary," she told the group, is still a frequent favorite with English carolers. "A Virgin Unspotted," another English carol, was also sung.

Present Carols

Traveling through the ages to more contemporary times, the speaker mentioned one of the most lovely of the modern carols, "We Three Kings of Orient Are," which was written in this country in 1857 by the Rev. John Henry Hopkins. She also spoke of the familiar Christmas hymns written by Franz Gruber, Handel, and Mendelssohn.

Returning to earlier times, Mrs. Russell drew a definite parallel between the people's legendary folk songs, and Christmas carols, with each portraying the influence of climate, customs, and racial characteristics. In southern nations the carols tell of birds that guard the sleeping child, while in the north they describe fir trees and snow. In lands bordering the sea the carols sing of Christmas ships. Two examples are the 14th century song, "There Comes a Galley Laden," and the lovely old Bohemian carol, "Good King Wenceslas."

Carols and Customs

Carols often reveal a deep insight into the customs of a people, Mrs. Russell continued. There are carols centered about the burning of the Yule log, and carols which tell of decking medieval halls with holly and ivy. Meanwhile the "Boar's Head Carol" is still sung as the processfon of cooks at King's College, Oxford, bring in the roast preceeded by the college choir. Another custom commemorated in song, Mrs. Russell revealed, is the ceremony of the wassail bowl, while in illustration the group sang "Here We Come A-Wassailing."

Following the speaker the group enjoyed entertainment and refreshments arranged by the program committee. Committee members were Chairman Mrs. Herbert Rhodes, assisted by Miss Mary Ingalls, Mrs. Warren Russell, Mrs. Herman Schwenk, and Mrs. Raymond Woodard. Mrs. Joseph Deegan, president, presided at the tea table.

State Survey Says Co-Eds Today Are More Attractive

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 13 (AP)—Are college girls of today better looking, do they dress more attractively and sensibly, are they more serious than co-eds of the 1920s and 1930s?

Most upstate educators say yes to all three questions.

They say that today's college girl is serious about her education, that she doesn't feel higher education is a luxury."

It's true she eventually looks toward marriage. But she wants to work a while after she graduates and she wants to be trained so she can take a job if necessary after marriage.

As for beauty, Mrs. Edna Brandau, professor of applied arts and director of merchandising in the college of home economics at Syracuse University, says Syracuse co-eds are prettier now than they were 10 or 20 years ago.

"For one thing," she says, "they are on a more adequate diet and are more careful in planning their food habits.

"As a result, the girls today have a clean "scrubbed" look. In addition, their simple hairdos, carefully selected to go with their face lines, have made today's co-eds much more attractive and appealing."

Dress Is Simple

Mrs. Brandau also says "girls dress more simply today. And because they dress more simply they are able to achieve a smarter effect."

Syracuse girls prefer suits and "separates"—skirts and blouses that can be combined. Sweaters and skirts are the favorites at Cornell University.

At Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, the standard "uniforms" for classroom wear are sweaters and skirts, blue jeans or slacks and sweaters. When the girls go off campus or on trips, they dress up.

At Russell Sage College in Troy, the girls also prefer simple clothes—sweaters and skirts, suits, woolen dresses in the winter and cotton dresses in the spring and fall. Blue jeans are out—and slacks are seen only on very cold days.

Twenty or thirty years ago many persons considered college education for women a "luxury."

But today, with more girls going to college, educators say that emphasis is placed increasingly on problems of living and vocational training.

More Co-Eds

Twenty years ago a total of 45,290 girls were attending colleges and universities in New York state. Men students totaled 75,764. Today there are 106,245 girls and 214,835 men attending colleges in New York state.

Educators find that more girls now are entering such fields as medicine, law, business administration and engineering—the so-called "men" professions.

Perhaps the outstanding difference between the girls of 1950 and those of the 1920s and 30s is the current serious attitude.

A faculty member at Skidmore College says "some of the girls are extremely serious." She says World War 2 and the threat of another war have brought about this attitude.

Some of the girls "are quite upset by world conditions," but they're very sensible, she reports.

Another educator says college girls today seem more interested in world affairs, politics and economics. This has been borne out by the increased enrollments in social studies courses.

Educators, however, will not go so far as to maintain that college girls of today are smarter than they were 20 years ago.

Miss Marjorie C. Smith, dean of Women at Syracuse, says the number of girls on the dean's list or who become Phi Beta Kappa has increased. But she adds this increase is in proportion to the increased enrollment of women during the past 20 years.

20th Century Hears Historical Account Of Christmas Music

Assisted by Nancy and Nelson Ellsworth, Mrs. Warren Russell gave an historical account of Christmas music at the Monday night meeting of the 20th Century Club held at the home of Mrs. Maynard Mizel, 221 Albany avenue.

"Some of the old carols in use today are older than any other form of musical expression," Mrs. Russell explained. "They belong to that class of folk music which is called 'legendary,' for they have come directly from the hearts of the people. Even before England, France, or Germany had individual tongues, these songs were sung in Latin."

The praesepium, or creche, Mrs. Russell continued, was originated in 1224 by St. Francis of Assisi. It was customary, in the middle ages, to hold circle dances and singing about the Christmas figurines of the Christ child and His mother. The songs, in turn, gave birth to the first Christmas carols. As an example of carols from this period, Nancy and Nelson Ellsworth then sang "Lully Lully Lee," and the "Parthenian Carol." Handel, Mrs. Russell told the group, used the latter as the basic melody in his pastoral symphony, and also in his great oratorio, "The Messiah." Meanwhile, in modern Spain, the speaker revealed, as well as in Central and South America, choir boys still sing and dance before the altar, and around the creche. Modern counterpart of the ancient custom comes with the American Indians, who arrive at their churches Christmas eve dressed in tribal glory, beating on their tom-toms, and singing.

Music and Miracle Plays

Music played a prominent role in the old miracle plays, Mrs. Russell continued. "Enders Nyzgt" and the lovely "Wiegenlied," two 15th century songs, were then sung to illustrate the period.

Pipe playing, she reminded the group, has been associated with the shepherd's life since the days of Homer. One of the oldest, and most beautiful of the shepherd bagpipe songs, "On that Blessed Night" was next sung. "The First Noel," she explained, also a shepherd carol, has come down to us through four centuries from the early French shepherds.

Mrs. Russell then spoke of the many songs which honor the Virgin Mother, dating back to the days of the troubadours. One, the "Seven Joys of Mary," she told the group, is still a frequent favorite with English carolers. "A Virgin Unspotted," another English carol, was also sung.

Present Carols

Traveling through the ages to more contemporary times, the speaker mentioned one of the most lovely of the modern carols, "We Three Kings of Orient Are," which was written in this country in 1857 by the Rev. John Henry Hopkins. She also spoke of the familiar Christmas hymns written by Franz Gruber, Handel, and Mendelssohn.

Returning to earlier times, Mrs. Russell drew a definite parallel between the people's legendary folk songs, and Christmas carols, with each portraying the influence of climate, customs, and racial characteristics. In southern nations the carols tell of birds that guard the sleeping child, while in the north they describe fir trees and snow. In lands bordering the sea the carols sing of Christmas ships. Two examples are the 14th century song, "There Comes a Galley Laden," and the lovely old Bohemian carol, "Good King Wenceslas."

Carols and Customs

Carols often reveal a deep insight into the customs of a people, Mrs. Russell continued. There are carols centered about the burning of the Yule log, and carols which tell of decking medieval halls with holly and ivy. Meanwhile the "Boar's Head Carol" is still sung as the procession of cooks at King's College, Oxford, bring in the roast preceeded by the college choir. Another custom commemorated in song, Mrs. Russell revealed, is the ceremony of the wassail bowl, while in illustration the group sang "Here We Come A-Wassailing."

Following the speaker the group enjoyed entertainment and refreshments arranged by the program committee. Committee members were Chairman Mrs. Herbert Rhodes, assisted by Miss Mary Ingalls, Mrs. Warren Russell, Mrs. Herman Schwenk, and Mrs. Raymond Woodard. Mrs. Joseph Deegan, president, presided at the tea table.

State Survey Says Co-Eds Today Are More Attractive

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 13 (AP)—Are college girls of today better looking, do they dress more attractively and sensibly, are they more serious than co-eds of the 1920s and 1930s?

Most upstate educators say yes to all three questions.

They say that today's college girl is serious about her education, that she doesn't feel higher education is a luxury."

It's true she eventually looks toward marriage. But she wants to work a while after she graduates and she wants to be trained so she can take a job if necessary after marriage.

As for beauty, Mrs. Edna Brandau, professor of applied arts and director of merchandising in the college of home economics at Syracuse University, says Syracuse co-eds are prettier now than they were 10 or 20 years ago.

"For one thing," she says, "they are on a more adequate diet and are more careful in planning their food habits.

"As a result, the girls today have a clean "scrubbed" look. In addition, their simple hairdos, carefully selected to go with their face lines, have made today's co-eds much more attractive and appealing."

Dress Is Simple

Mrs. Brandau also says "girls dress more simply today. And because they dress more simply they are able to achieve a smarter effect."

Syracuse girls prefer suits and "separates"—skirts and blouses that can be combined. Sweaters and skirts are the favorites at Cornell University.

At Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, the standard "uniforms" for classroom wear are sweaters and skirts, blue jeans or slacks and sweaters. When the girls go off campus or on trips, they dress up.

At Russell Sage College in Troy, the girls also prefer simple clothes —sweaters and skirts, suits, woolen dresses in the winter and cotton dresses in the spring and fall. Blue jeans are out—and slacks are seen only on very cold days.

Twenty or thirty years ago many persons considered college education for women a "luxury."

But today, with more girls going to college, educators say that emphasis is placed increasingly on problems of living and vocational training.

More Co-Eds

Twenty years ago a total of 45,290 girls were attending colleges and universities in New York state. Men students totaled 75,764. Today there are 106,245 girls and 214,835 men attending colleges in New York state.

Educators find that more girls now are entering such fields as medicine, law, business administration and engineering—the so-called "men" professions.

Perhaps the outstanding difference between the girls of 1950 and those of the 1920s and 30s is the current serious attitude.

A faculty member at Skidmore College says "some of the girls are extremely serious." She says World War 2 and the threat of another war have brought about this attitude.

Some of the girls "are quite upset by world conditions," but they're very sensible, she reports.

Another educator says college girls today seem more interested in world affairs, politics and economics. This has been borne out by the increased enrollments in social studies courses.

Educators, however, will not go so far as to maintain that college girls of today are smarter than they were 20 years ago.

Miss Marjorie C. Smith, dean of Women at Syracuse, says the number of girls on the dean's list or who become Phi Beta Kappa has increased. But she adds this increase is in proportion to the increased enrollment of women during the past 20 years.

Windingstad Leading, Milinowski Playing Thrill Music Lovers

Poughkeepsi, Dec. 14 (Special)—At the secnd concert of the Dutchess Conty Philharmonic Orchestra, which took place last night in the Poughkeepsie High School, Ole Windingstad conducted three materpieces — Schumann's Piano Concerto with Martha Milinowsk as the soloist, Brahms' Fourt Symphony, and Weber's Freischuetz Overture.

The many peple who last year in Vassar Colige heard Martha Milinowski play Brahms' Handel Variations or Lzt's Sonata in B minor were inpressed by her quiet and modet deportment at the piano, her brilliant interpretation, and noble artistic personality.

Her new sucess last night made everybody happy. She forgot herself; she only let Schumann speak. Th audience felt the anguish, the rustrated longing, the exquisit suffering of Schumann's music. She created a profound sensation.

The audience was grateful that Windingstad, who conducted Brahms' Fourth Symphony several years ago, again conducted it last night. Windingstad again brought out the architectonic perfection of the Fourth Symphony, the dark reserve, the austere greatness, and the passionate yet never unbridled melodies. If the orchestra's playing was sometimes rough in the first movement, the orchestra distinguished itself in the others, and especially in the fourth, the mighty Passacaglia.

His conducting of the Freischuetz Overture was full of warm color and bright charm. The large audience was very enthusiastic.—H. S. Leake.

WISE BUSINESSMEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN FOR RESULTS

Area Production Workers Pay Goes Higher in Cities

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—The pay of production workers in New Yorl. state factories averaged $61.75 a week in October, an increase of 2.06 from September.

In October, 1949, the average was $57.60.

The State Labor Department, which reported the figures yesterday said the September-October increase reflected an average pay increase of two cents an hour and a lengthening of the work week by nine-tenths of an hour.

The largest gain was reported in New York city, where hours worked in a week increased from 36.2 in September to 38.1 in October. Average pay in New York city jumped from $57.26 in September to $60.63 in October.

Increases in the Newburgh-Kingston-Poughkeepsie area was from $56.87 to $58.31.

Two areas reported decreases. In the Albany-Schenectady-Troy district the average slid from $66.31 in September to $66.28 in October. In the Binghamton Endicott-Johnson City district the drop was from $60.75 to $59.87.

Board Pierces Skull

Medford, Ont., Dec. 14 (AP)—A razor-edged, six-foot strip of hardwood pierced the head of a flooring plant worker here yesterday. The man calmly reached up to steady the five feet of board projecting from his skull and marched to a first aid room some distance away. The employe, 35-year-old Keith Bumstead, then sat quietly while Dr. J. S. Finley and Plant Superintendent Ivan Knight of the F. Stanley Knight Hardwood Flooring Ltd. sawed off the projecting board. Bumstead was rushed to a hospital 20 miles away and the remaining wood was removed by surgery. The man's condition was described as satisfactory last night. The board, ejected by a suddenly-stopped machine, had entered the scalp at the left temple and projected from the back of his head.

Rejection Is Opposed

Dallas, Dec. 14 (AP)—A committee of school administrators said athletes should not be rejected for military service for physical reasons. In its report the schoolmen also questioned the wisdom of rejecting men who make low mental test scores if they have completed elementary school. The report of the American Association of School Administrators' Committee on Military Service and Training was released yesterday by Dallas School Supt. W. T. White, association president. The report declared, "young men should be accepted for limited service. They should not be rejected simply because they fail to qualify for combat."

Woodstock, Dec. 14 — Walter Van Wagenen, school principal, announced at the Woodstock District No. 2, Parent-Teacher Association meeting on Wednesday night at the Town Hall, that Governor Thomas E. Dewey has been invited to attend the dedication ceremonies for the new Woodstock School on Friday, Dec. 29, between 8 and 9 p. m.

During the meeting the following officers were elected to serve until June, 1951: Mrs. Austin Mecklem, president; Walter Van Wagenen, vice president; Mrs. Harold Mellin, executive vice president; Mrs. Edward Gurland, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Rapp read the newly formulated by-laws of the organization which was followed by a short discussion.

Membership in the organization is open to any person who lives in School District No. 2, or parents of children who are or have attended the school district. Men as well as women are invited to join. The annual dues for members are all-inclusive for membership in the National Congress, the state branch and the local unit.

Regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the new Woodstock school on the first Thursday of every month. The next meeting will be on Thursday, Jan. 4, at 7 p. m.

Membership in the organization to date is as follows: Mrs. Charles Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Celeste Hart, Mrs. Muriel Green, Mrs. Florence Provenzano, Mrs. William Melville, Mrs. Robert Gordon, Mrs. Opal Wharton, Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mrs. Verna Herbert, Irwin Arlt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dordick, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crane, Mrs. Dorothy Wright, Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, Mrs. Gladys Feeley, John Feeley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Edna W. Quick, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Gurland, Mrs. Richard Thibaut, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Pike, Mr. and Mrs. David Huffine, Mrs. Harold Mellin, Mrs. Margot King, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deutch, Mrs. Paul Perlman, Mrs. John Egan, Mrs. Sidney Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lee, Mrs. Myrtle Bell, Mrs. Eleanor Montano and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Mecklem.

Yule Party

Woodstock, Dec. 14—A children's Christmas party will be given at the Woodstock Town Hall on Wednesday, Dec. 20, for students at the Woodstock, Zena, Bearsville and Daisy schools. The party will begin at 2 p. m.

Two Christmas Parties Scheduled on Tuesday

Woodstock, Dec. 14—A meeting of the Brownie Troop will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 19, at the fire hall at 3:30 p. m., at which time there will be a Christmas party.

The Cub Scout Pack will hold its Christmas party on Tuesday, Dec. 19, in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church at 7:30 p. m. All parents of the cubs are invited. Movies will be shown and refreshments served.

Artists Have Variety In Annual Yule Show

Woodstock, Dec. 13—Continuing with its popular innovation of a season or two ago, the Woodstock Artists Association is holding another show of paintings, prints and craftwork suitable for Christmas gifts.

The Magafan twins are represented, each in her own sphere of endeavor, Ethel's dramatic red rocks of Colorado, in wonderful small thumbox size, while Jenne prefers close-ups of backyards and houses in watercolor and black and white. There also is a collection of decorative paintings by Howard Mandel each with a highly original frame and mat. Bruce Currie contributes an appealing "Mountain Village" scene and Ed Chavez's "Tree Stump is fine in quality and subject.

Children adore anything new in the realm of make-believe and Appel's amusing calico pigs and piglets are gay and softly cuddly as well, while his alligator and other clever animals would enhance any child's menagerie.

In the craft field are painted trays and boxes and tall bottles decorated in modern motifs. Perhaps the most amusing are the small wire sculpture by Peter Keep. Also including in the exhibition are the comparatively rare but fine drawings by sculptor Alfeo Faggi.

The Woodstock Artists Association will hold its Christmas party at the Gallery, Saturday, Dec. 16, from 5 to 7 p. m.

Schools Close Friday

Woodstock, Dec. 13—Christmas vacation for the Bearsville school will begin Friday, Dec. 15. School will reopen Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Van Wagonen Is Named

Woodstock, Dec. 13—It has been announced by LaMonte Simpkins that Virgil Van Wagonen, of Bearsville has been newly appointed as a director of the Woodstock Fire Insurance Association. The annual meeting of the directors of the association will be held Wednesday, Dec. 20 at 2 p. m. at the offices of the company.

New Paint, Sculpture Exhibit at Sea Horse

Woodstock, Dec. 13—A singularly striking combination of painting and sculpture is now on exhibition at the S.S. "Sea Horse" which opened with a party Saturday. If anyone is deluded into thinking that sculpture is a cold and colorless art, Harvey Fite's dramatic pieces would quickly dispell the illusion for they are vivid and warm examples of the hues and textures to be found in stone. "The Dragon" is a massive and impressive design of curving form in glowing golden tones, while "Cleopatra" is a remote and stately figure in cool blue-grey marble. "The Prophet" of pure white quartz contains a luminous, transparent almost unearthly quality.

Ben Johnson's paintings provide strong contrast and a vivid color note with the sculpture and particularly notable are his "Cooper's Lake" and "Barn." There also are several arresting still lifes in the exhibition, which will remain at the S. S. "Sea Horse" until Jan. 6.

Plans Ghandi Shrine

New Delhi (AP)—Indian leaders are studying models of the Lincoln and Washington monuments in Washington and Moscow's Red Square tribute to Lenin in their search for a suitable shrine for Mahatma Gandhi. Preliminary plans call for a shrine of 100 acres covering the area of the Rajghat —burning pyre—where nearly 100,000 Indians watched their idol's body turned to ashes.

Soviets Set Up New Army Command Post

Berlin, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Soviet army has set up a new command post in the Thuringian mountains 30 miles from the American zone, the West Berlin Telegraf reported today.

Thirty hotels and boarding houses were requisitioned for Russian staff offiicers in Oberhof, a mountain resort, the newspaper said.

Most of the owners were reported arrested by the east German security police for "serious economic crimes, speculation and relations with Nazi activists."

Russian forces in east Germany are estimated by allied intelligence at 33 divisions. They are distributed among six separate army commands, two of which have been regularly located only a few miles from the west German frontier.

The opinion prevails here among western officers that as yet the Soviet forces in east Germany have not undertaken a special buildup which might foreshadow an invasion next year. But they admit that the "Russians are always potentially ready to march without further reinforcement."

Would Have F.B.I. Allowed

New York, Dec. 14 (AP) — The Federal Bar Association of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut urges that, in cases affecting national security, the FBI be allowed to make arrests without warrants and to use wire-tapping to gain evidence. The recommendation was made yesterday by Henry Ward Beer, president of the tri-state association made up of 500 practicing lawyers in the federal courts. Beer's announcement followed a meeting of the association's board of trustees.

Artists Have Variety In Annual Yule Show

Woodstock, Dec. 13—Continuing with its popular innovation of a season or two ago, the Woodstock Artists Association is holding another show of paintings, prints and craftwork suitable for Christmas gifts.

The Magafan twins are represented, each in her own sphere of endeavor. Ethel's dramatic red rocks of Colorado, in wonderful small thumbox size, while Jenne prefers close-ups of backyards and houses in watercolor and black and white. There also is a collection of decorative paintings by Howard Mandel each with a highly original frame and mat. Bruce Currie contributes an appealing "Mountain Village" scene and Ed Chavez's "Tree Stump is fine in quality and subject.

Children adore anything new in the realm of make-believe and Appel's amusing calico pigs and piglets are gay and softly cuddly as well, while his alligator and other clever animals would enhance any child's menagerie.

In the craft field are painted trays and boxes and tall bottles decorated in modern motifs. Perhaps the most amusing are the small wire sculpture by Peter Keep. Also including in the exhibition are the comparatively rare but fine drawings by sculptor Alfeo Faggi.

The Woodstock Artists Association will hold its Christmas party at the Gallery, Saturday, Dec. 16, from 5 to 7 p. m.

Schools Close Friday

Woodstock, Dec. 13—Christmas vacation for the Bearsville school will begin Friday, Dec. 15. School will reopen Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Van Wagonen Is Named

Woodstock, Dec. 13—It has been announced by LaMonte Simpkins that Virgil Van Wagonen, of Bearsville has been newly appointed as a director of the Woodstock Fire Insurance Association. The annual meeting of the directors of the association will be held Wednesday, Dec. 20 at 2 p. m. at the offices of the company.

New Paint, Sculpture Exhibit at Sea Horse

Woodstock, Dec. 13—A singularly striking combination of painting and sculpture is now on exhibition at the S.S. "Sea Horse" which opened with a party Saturday. If anyone is deluded into thinking that sculpture is a cold and colorless art, Harvey Fite's dramatic pieces would quickly dispell the illusion for they are vivid and warm examples of the hues and textures to be found in stone. "The Dragon" is a massive and impressive design of curving form in glowing golden tones, while "Cleopatra" is a remote and stately figure in cool blue-grey marble. "The Prophet" of pure white quartz contains a luminous, transparent almost unearthly quality.

Ben Johnson's paintings provide strong contrast and a vivid color note with the sculpture and particularly notable are his "Cooper's Lake" and "Barn." There also are several arresting still lifes in the exhibition, which will remain at the S. S. "Sea Horse" until Jan. 6.

Plans Ghandi Shrine

New Delhi (AP)—Indian leaders are studying models of the Lincoln and Washington monuments in Washington and Moscow's Red Square tribute to Lenin in their search for a suitable shrine for Mahatma Gandhi. Preliminary plans call for a shrine of 100 acres covering the area of the Rajghat—burning pyre—where nearly 100,000 Indians watched their idol's body turned to ashes.

Kingston Is Invited to Attend Can-Am Baseball Loop Meeting

City May Get One Of Three Franchises

Representatives of interests in Kingston baseball have been invited to attend an important meeting of the Canadian-American League at the Hotel Van Curler in Schenectady Saturday, Ad Jones, spokesman of the local club said this morning.

Jones said that the invitation was extended by Albert Houghton, president of the Class C Can-Am League with the possibility that Kingston might come away from the session with a franchise.

According to Jones, Kingston is being mentioned as a possible successor to one of the three clubs dropping out of the circuit.

Franchises in Schenectady, Three-Rivers and Quebec will be dropped from the league for various reasons, it was pointed out. Schenectady's franchise will be moved up to the Eastern League.

Others interested in new franchises besides Kingston include Utica and Glens Falls.

Other members of the Can-Am loop are Oneonta, Gloversville, Amsterdam, Pittsfield and Rome.

Consideration of Kingston as a possible replacement has been highly recommended through the office of President George M. Trautman of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

"We received a very fine recommendation from President Trautman for our handling of last year's defunct club," Jones said this morning and added "his support should go a long way in bringing a Can-Am League franchise to this city."

Jones said he planned to attend Saturday's meeting in Schenectady with several other interested persons of the city.

Four-Man Group Is Named to Search For Successor to 'Happy' Chandler

$10,000 Wage Boost Due for New Chief

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Major league club owners appointed a four-man committee today to search for a new commissioner to replace A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who again vowed that he would not resign.

The committee, composed of two men from the National and two from the American League, was instructed to begin screening candidates immediately and endeavor to bring back a report to the owners at their meeting next February.

The committee also has been empowered to offer a $75,000 a year salary to Chandler's successor. That amounts to a $10,000 increase over the salary paid to the present commissioner.

A club president who asked his name not be used, said the majority of the club owners voiced their preference for a man having no connection with baseball. That man also must be a "universally respected person possessing a judicial mind," he added.

Baseball Leaders Out

This would tend to eliminate such heretofore outstanding candidates as Ford Frick, president of the National League; George Trautman, head of the minors, and Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

Although neither league has made public its committee, it is believed that Del Webb, vice president of the New York Yankees, and Billy Evans, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, are the American League pair while Lou Perini, Boston Braves president, and Giles represent the National.

"The owners do not want a baseball man for commissioner," the informant said, "they fear that a man inside the baseball family might be more friendly to some than others and therefore might tend to be prejudiced. They want a man with a judicial mind who is not directly connected with politics."

In the meantime, Chandler steadfastedly sticks to his vow to keep his job "until the final second of my tenure."

It was learned Chandler was offered a cash payment of $100,000 at Tuesday's joint session if he would resign. That represents $15,000 more than the amount he would make at his $65,000 a year salary if he stayed on the remaining 16½ months. His contract expires May 1, 1952.

Chandler refused. He insisted he had done a creditable job for baseball and its owners and deserved a new term. The owners, who Monday night voted not to renew his contract, disagreed.

Weaver vs. Rienzo at Point

Kingston High School basketball followers, who are fearful that the end is imminent for a glorious victory cycle at K.H.S., can re-live the happy past Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. at the West Point field house.

That's the day two of the Maroon's all-time greats—Big Ed Weaver and Mike Rienzo—will be in opposing uniforms when Army opens its basketball season against St. Lawrence University.

Weaver, a sensational success with the Army football squad, has been named varsity starter for the Cadets. Rienzo is a member of the Larrie quintet and, if he doesn't start, still figures to see plenty of action.

Schulers Turn Back Newkirks, 43 to 37; DeCicco Scores 27

Schuler's Inn, rated as the club to beat for honors in the "B" Division of the Y Winter Basketball League, registered a six point 43 to 37 victory over the Newkirk Aces in one of the three games at the Y boards Wednesday night.

In other games, the Robins dumped the Violets by 51 to 38 and the fast-improving Yellow Jackets turned back the Accord Chevies by 47 to 38.

Ed McCardle was the big scorer for Schulers last night with 16 points. Hotaling followed with 10.

Trailing by 14-12 at the half, Schulers staged a big second half rally with 14 in the third and 17 in the final canto to pull through with the win.

H. Maybanks with 10 paced the Robins in their 51-38 conquest of the Violets. J. Daley was high for the losers with 17.

Phil DeCicco, showing good form as a ball handler with a neat lay-up shot, flipped in 27 points to spark the Jackets in their 47-38 win over the Chevies. Lawrence was high for the losers with 15.

Swap Cage Players

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Syracuse Nationals have obtained Noble (Jorgy) Jorgensen from the Tri-Cities Blackhawks in trade for center Ed Peterson. The players swap uniforms tonight, when the Nationals and the Blackhawks meet here in a National Basketball Association game. The trade was announced last night by the Nationals.

Birdie's Handling Of Hurlers Factor In Sale to Tribe

Boston, Dec. 14 (AP) — Blazing team spirit, which was misconstrued by several young pitchers, probably played an important part in the Boston Red Sox' sale of catcher George (Birdie) Tebbetts to the Cleveland Indians.

It is no secret that, while the Red Sox were making their belated and futile pennant drive last September, several of the club's hurlers had advised Manager Steve O'Neill they were unwilling to pitch to Tebbetts, the team's top-ranking receiver.

A veteran who played strictly to win, Tebbetts aroused the ire of a few youngsters by his tactics while trying to teach them to correct their mistakes and eliminate their flaws. They objected to his impatience.

More experienced hurlers complained that Tebbetts, in tight places, generally called for a fast ball, and they were in tight spots most of the time.

The night before the season ended, with the Red Sox missing another pennant by an eyelash, Tebbetts described some of the club's pitchers as "juvenile delinquents and moronic malcontents."

That crack, uttered in O'Neill's presence, was Tebbetts' Red Sox valedictory. It can be taken for granted that O'Neill, although his relations with Tebbetts, both in Boston and Detroit, had been amicable, decided that only Birdie's departure would restore harmony in the bull pen.

Bradley Cops Fifth

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Bradley University, runnerup to CCNY in the two big national tournaments last year, is kicking up a lot of dust again in college basketball. Forrest Anderson's smooth-functioning charges from Peoria, Ill., won their fifth straight game without a setback last night, humbling a good Purdue team, 88-73. It was again the story of Gene Melchiorre, the pint-sized pivot man. Gene flipped in 22 points—18 of them in the last half—to whip the Big Ten contender.

Kingston Is Invited to Attend Can-Am Baseball Loop Meeting

City May Get One Of Three Franchises

Representatives of interests in Kingston baseball have been invited to attend an important meeting of the Canadian-American League at the Hotel Van Curler in Schenectady Saturday, Ad Jones, spokesman of the local club said this morning.

Jones said that the invitation was extended by Albert Houghton, president of the Class C Can-Am League with the possibility that Kingston might come away from the session with a franchise.

According to Jones, Kingston is being mentioned as a possible successor to one of the three clubs dropping out of the circuit.

Franchises in Schenectady, Three-Rivers and Quebec will be dropped from the league for various reasons, it was pointed out. Schenectady's franchise will be moved up to the Eastern League.

Others interested in new franchises besides Kingston include Utica and Glens Falls.

Other members of the Can-Am loop are Oneonta, Gloversville, Amsterdam, Pittsfield and Rome.

Consideration of Kingston as a possible replacement has been highly recommended through the office of President George M. Trautman of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

"We received a very fine recommendation from President Trautman for our handling of last year's defunct club," Jones said this morning and added "his support should go a long way in bringing a Can-Am League franchise to this city."

Jones said he planned to attend Saturday's meeting in Schenectady with several other interested persons of the city.

Four-Man Group Is Named to Search For Successor to 'Happy' Chandler

$10,000 Wage Boost Due for New Chief

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Major league club owners appointed a four-man committee today to search for a new commissioner to replace A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who again vowed that he would not resign.

The committee, composed of two men from the National and two from the American League, was instructed to begin screening candidates immediately and endeavor to bring back a report to the owners at their meeting next February.

The committee also has been empowered to offer a $75,000 a year salary to Chandler's successor. That amounts to a $10,000 increase over the salary paid to the present commissioner.

A club president who asked his name not be used, said the majority of the club owners voiced their preference for a man having no connection with baseball. That man also must be a "universally respected person possessing a judicial mind," he added.

Baseball Leaders Out

This would tend to eliminate such heretofore outstanding candidates as Ford Frick, president of the National League; George Trautman, head of the minors, and Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

Although neither league has made public its committee, it is believed that Del Webb, vice president of the New York Yankees, and Billy Evans, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, are the American League pair while Lou Perini, Boston Braves president, and Giles represent the National.

"The owners do not want a baseball man for commissioner," the informant said, "they fear that a man inside the baseball family might be more friendly to some than others and therefore might tend to be prejudiced. They want a man with a judicial mind who is not directly connected with politics."

In the meantime, Chandler steadfastedly sticks to his vow to keep his job "until the final second of my tenure."

It was learned Chandler was offered a cash payment of $100,000 at Tuesday's joint session if he would resign. That represents $15,000 more than the amount he would make at his $65,000 a year salary if he stayed on the remaining 16½ months. His contract expires May 1, 1952.

Chandler refused. He insisted he had done a creditable job for baseball and its owners and deserved a new term. The owners, who Monday night voted not to renew his contract, disagreed.

Weaver vs. Rienzo at Point

Kingston High School basketball followers, who are fearful that the end is imminent for a glorious victory cycle at K.H.S., can re-live the happy past Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. at the West Point field house.

That's the day two of the Maroon's all-time greats—Big Ed Weaver and Mike Rienzo—will be in opposing uniforms when Army opens its basketball season against St. Lawrence University.

Weaver, a sensational success with the Army football squad, has been named varsity starter for the Cadets. Rienzo is a member of the Larrie quintet and, if he doesn't start, still figures to see plenty of action.

Schulers Turn Back Newkirks, 43 to 37; DeCicco Scores 27

Trailing by 14-12 at the half, Schulers staged a big second half rally with 14 in the third and 17 in the final canto to pull through with the win.

H. Maybanks with 10 paced the Robins in their 51-38 conquest of the Violets. J. Daley was high for the losers with 17.

Phil DeCicco, showing good form as a ball handler with a neat lay-up shot, flipped in 27 points to spark the Jackets in their 47-38 win over the Chevies. Lawrence was high for the losers with 15.

Leahy Gets Salary Boost

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 14 (AP)—Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy, whose 1950 football team was voted the flop of the season, got a different kind of vote last night: A "vote of confidence" from his superiors, accompanied by a "substantial" salary raise. Leahy was informed of both at the Irish football team's testimonial dinner. In reply, he said "I'll do better from now on."

Gustafson Gets 10-Year Contract With Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Andy Gustafson, who coached the University of Miami Hurricanes through their first undefeated football season since 1933, has agreed to a new 10-year contract.

He also signed a new 10-year pact to coach the south team in Mahi Shrine Temple's annual north-south college all-star game in the Orange Bowl.

Terms of the contracts were not disclosed but it was believed the University agreement will exceed $175,000 and the Shrine pact will add at least $25,000 in the 10-year period.

The first long-term pact ever made by the university was announced late yesterday by Dr. Bowman F. Ashe, president of the school, who helped lure Gustafson to Miami from his assistant coaching job at West Point in 1948.

A few hours later, Shrine Committee Chairman Harry Ebright tore up the old contract and offered Gustafson a new 10-year agreement, which he accepted.

Stars Express Regret At Chandler's Ouster

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Most of the major league baseball players, it seems, were surprised and disappointed that major league owners failed to renew the contract of Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Some of the leading stars were asked yesterday what they thought about the recent startling developments in St. Petersburg.

To the man, they said they thought Chandler had done a good job as commissioner. Most of them expressed surprise. Several said they were sorry the commissioner was being fired.

Typical comment came from Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run king, and Stan Musial, outfield star of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Kiner declared: "All I can say is that I was surprised, really surprised. Personally, I thought Chandler was a wonderful guy. He was always fair to me."

Musial, an employe of Fred Saigh, one of the anti-Chandler faction, asserted Chandler "was doing a very good job and we in baseball will miss him."

Leahy Gets Salary Boost

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 14 (AP)—Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy, whose 1950 football team was voted the flop of the season, got a different kind of vote last night: A "vote of confidence" from his superiors, accompanied by a "substantial" salary raise. Leahy was informed of both at the Irish football team's testimonial dinner. In reply, he said "I'll do better from now on."

Gustafson Gets 10-Year Contract With Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Andy Gustafson, who coached the University of Miami Hurricanes through their first undefeated football season since 1933, has agreed to a new 10-year contract.

He also signed a new 10-year pact to coach the south team in Mahi Shrine Temple's annual north-south college all-star game in the Orange Bowl.

Terms of the contracts were not disclosed but it was believed the University agreement will exceed $175,000 and the Shrine pact will add at least $25,000 in the 10-year period.

The first long-term pact ever made by the university was announced late yesterday by Dr. Bowman F. Ashe, president of the school, who helped lure Gustafson to Miami from his assistant coaching job at West Point in 1948.

A few hours later, Shrine Committee Chairman Harry Ebright tore up the old contract and offered Gustafson a new 10-year agreement, which he accepted.

Stars Express Regret At Chandler's Ouster

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Most of the major league baseball players, it seems, were surprised and disappointed that major league owners failed to renew the contract of Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Some of the leading stars were asked yesterday what they thought about the recent startling developments in St. Petersburg.

To the man, they said they thought Chandler had done a good job as commissioner. Most of them expressed surprise. Several said they were sorry the commissioner was being fired.

Typical comment came from Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run king, and Stan Musial, outfield star of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Kiner declared: "All I can say is that I was surprised, really surprised. Personally, I thought Chandler was a wonderful guy. He was always fair to me."

Musial, an employe of Fred Saigh, one of the anti-Chandler faction, asserted Chandler "was doing a very good job and we in baseball will miss him."

Army Denies Any Evacuation Plans For German Areas

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 14 (AP)—The U. S. Army today issued a statement denying a news agency report that plans are being made for evacuation of American women and children from Germany.

Army headquarters in Heidelberg said there has been no "change in the current policy as regards dependents."

It is generally known that military plans to provide for evacuation of American families in the event of w. 's outbreak have been in existence for several years.

Army officials call this "routine planning."

The army denied, however, the news agency report that there was a conference of U. S. troop commanders in Stuttgart recently to consider evacuation plans. Headquarters said the meeting was a routine conference of the commanders of the newly created Seventh Army.

The news agency was not mentioned by name in the army denial.

Passenger Service Cut Because of Rail Strike

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad ordered sharp curtailments in its passenger service today in the face of a spreading strike of railroad yard workers.

A source cose to the situation said freight was "held" in yards throughout the P.R.R. system, particularly at Chicago and Washington. The source, who declined to be identified by name, said "something will have to be done" and indicated an embargo might be ordered this afternoon.

The P.R.R. decined comment on whether or not it is considering a freight embargo.

The railroad announced that it was bypassing Washington completely in its east-west and north-south services.

All east-west passenger trains which are scheduled to originate or terminate at Washington are using Baltimore, 40 miles north, as the terminus point.

The railroad said it is operating a shuttle service between Baltimore and Washington.

North-south trains are being detoured around Washington via freight routes from Landover, Md., five miles north of Washington, to Alexandria, Va., just south of the nation's capital.

Passengers who want to board trains at Washington are being taken by bus to the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac station at Alexandria.

The spokesman said P.R.R. New York-Chicago passenger trains are moving in and out of Chicago without the usual switching operations. Many of the trains are running late.

Army Denies Any Evacuation Plans For German Areas

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 14 (AP)—The U. S. Army today issued a statement denying a news agency report that plans are being made for evacuation of American women and children from Germany.

Army headquarters in Heidelberg said there has been no "change in the current policy as regards dependents."

It is generally known that military plans to provide for evacuation of American families in the event of w. 's outbreak have been in existence for several years.

Army officials call this "routine planning."

The army denied, however, the news agency report that there was a conference of U. S. troop commanders in Stuttgart recently to consider evacuation plans. Headquarters said the meeting was a routine conference of the commanders of the newly created Seventh Army.

The news agency was not mentioned by name in the army denial.

Passenger Service Cut Because of Rail Strike

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad ordered sharp curtailments in its passenger service today in the face of a spreading strike of railroad yard workers.

A source cose to the situation said freight was "held" in yards throughout the P.R.R. system, particularly at Chicago and Washington. The source, who declined to be identified by name, said "something will have to be done" and indicated an embargo might be ordered this afternoon.

The P.R.R. decined comment on whether or not it is considering a freight embargo.

The railroad announced that it was bypassing Washington completely in its east-west and north-south services.

All east-west passenger trains which are scheduled to originate or terminate at Washington are using Baltimore, 40 miles north, as the terminus point.

The railroad said it is operating a shuttle service between Baltimore and Washington.

North-south trains are being detoured around Washington via freight routes from Landover, Md., five miles north of Washington, to Alexandria, Va., just south of the nation's capital.

Passengers who want to board trains at Washington are being taken by bus to the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac station at Alexandria.

The spokesman said P.R.R. New York-Chicago passenger trains are moving in and out of Chicago without the usual switching operations. Many of the trains are running late.

Marshall Is . . .

the Defense Department would ask for still more funds.

Such a new request would be in addition to the 1952 budget, now in the making and reliably estimated as likely to exceed $50,000,000,000. That estimate assumes there will not be an all-out war and full mobilization.

Should that happen, Mahon said during the hearings, military needs would require a minimum of $100,000,000,000 a year.

Part of 18 Billions

This military supplement is part of the $18,000,000,000 President Truman asked Congress to vote. The total includes $1,050,000,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission and $84,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The full Appropriations Committee will consider the full amount Friday morning, probably approving it quickly.

If so, House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) has announced it will be called up in the House that afternoon or on Saturday.

It was brought out in the hearings that the military supplement was drawn up by the joint chiefs of staff prior to the Chinese Communist attack in Korea.

Apprehensive lawmakers wanted to know if even this huge sum was enough.

Only Future Can Tell

Marshall and members of the joint chiefs of staff said that only future events could tell.

Mahon told Marshall that the "modesty" of the request indicates "that you do not believe that within the next few months we will be in an all-out shooting war."

"That is very hard to answer," Marshall replied. "But even if I think the possibility is very serious of a shooting war within the next three or four months I would say this emphasis on production is the way to begin."

Marshall said, yes, this government is doing everything it possibly can to avoid all-out war and "it has made considerable sacrifice in the doing."

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, disclosed that top planners originally considered 1954 "the most dangerous period." But he added "the present situation has caused us to move that date down some."

It has been estimated that the temperature of a carbon arc is 6399 degrees.

Communist Plane

about Nov. 1, enemy air strength did little.

On Nov. 1, "a marked change occurred," with the first appearance of the Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighters in aerial combat, he went on.

Then on Dec. 6, enemy jets for the first time began pressing attacks on United State's B-29 formations.

Until the step-up in Red air force action, there was almost no comparison between United Nations and Communist air activity. The spokesman said that from June 25 through Dec. 8 only 506 sorties were known to have been flown by the Communists.

A sortie is one flight by one plane.

During the same time the American Far Eastern air force flew approximately 72,000 sorties, not including sorties flown by navy and marine planes based on aircraft carriers. The grand total of sorties by the United Nations forces probably was well over 100,000 the spokesman said.

Division Is Moved

Berlin, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Russians have moved an armored division from East Germany to the Magdeburg area near the West zonal border within the past two weeks, it was learned today. U. S. Intelligence sources said the movement of the division was known at the time it happened but no particular significance was attached.

Pre-Yule Mail

at the central post office will remain open until 6 p. m. on Saturdays from now until the end of the Christmas rush, and at the branch offices until 5:30 p. m. The windows have been closing at noon on Saturdays under the regular post office schedule.

A. G. Kirk Returns

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Alan G. Kirk, U. S. ambassador to Russia, returned today for consultations with government officials. He declined to discuss the Soviet Union with newsmen. "Until I see the secretary of state, and probably the President, there is very little I can say for publication," Kirk told questioners. He arrived aboard the liner Liberte and said he would leave for Washington today. The ambassador said he expected to return to Moscow in January, but that no definite date for his departure had been set.

Marshall Is . . .

the Defense Department would ask for still more funds.

Such a new request would be in addition to the 1952 budget, now in the making and reliably estimated as likely to exceed $50,000,000,000. That estimate assumes there will not be an all-out war and full mobilization.

Should that happen, Mahon said during the hearings, military needs would require a minimum of $100,000,000,000 a year.

Part of 18 Billions

This military supplement is part of the $18,000,000,000 President Truman asked Congress to vote. The total includes $1,050,000,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission and $84,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The full Appropriations Committee will consider the full amount Friday morning, probably approving it quickly.

If so, House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) has announced it will be called up in the House that afternoon or on Saturday.

It was brought out in the hearings that the military supplement was drawn up by the joint chiefs of staff prior to the Chinese Communist attack in Korea.

Apprehensive lawmakers wanted to know if even this huge sum was enough.

Only Future Can Tell

Marshall and members of the joint chiefs of staff said that only future events could tell.

Mahon told Marshall that the "modesty" of the request indicates "that you do not believe that within the next few months we will be in an all-out shooting war."

"That is very hard to answer," Marshall replied. "But even if I think the possibility is very serious of a shooting war within the next three or four months I would say this emphasis on production is the way to begin."

Marshall said, yes, this government is doing everything it possibly can to avoid all-out war and "it has made considerable sacrifice in the doing."

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, disclosed that top planners originally considered 1954 "the most dangerous period." But he added "the present situation has caused us to move that date down some."

It has been estimated that the temperature of a carbon arc is 6399 degrees.

Communist Plane

about Nov. 1, enemy air strength did little.

On Nov. 1, "a marked change occurred," with the first appearance of the Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighters in aerial combat, he went on.

Then on Dec. 6, enemy jets for the first time began pressing attacks on United State's B-29 formations.

Until the step-up in Red air force action, there was almost no comparison between United Nations and Communist air activity. The spokesman said that from June 25 through Dec. 8 only 506 sorties were known to have been flown by the Communists.

A sortie is one flight by one plane.

During the same time the American Far Eastern air force flew approximately 72,000 sorties, not including sorties flown by navy and marine planes based on aircraft carriers. The grand total of sorties by the United Nations forces probably was well over 100,000 the spokesman said.

Division Is Moved

Berlin, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Russians have moved an armored division from East Germany to the Magdeburg area near the West zonal border within the past two weeks, it was learned today. U. S. Intelligence sources said the movement of the division was known at the time it happened but no particular significance was attached.

Pre-Yule Mail

at the central post office will remain open until 6 p. m. on Saturdays from now until the end of the Christmas rush, and at the branch offices until 5:30 p. m. The windows have been closing at noon on Saturdays under the regular post office schedule.

A. G. Kirk Returns

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Alan G. Kirk, U. S. ambassador to Russia, returned today for consultations with government officials. He declined to discuss the Soviet Union with newsmen. "Until I see the secretary of state, and probably the President, there is very little I can say for publication," Kirk told questioners. He arrived aboard the liner Liberte and said he would leave for Washington today. The ambassador said he expected to return to Moscow in January, but that no definite date for his departure had been set.
